U.S. B52s, Fighter-Bombers Support Troops

Allied Forces Kill 330 Of Enemy In Heavy South Vietnam Battles

SAIGON (AP) — Allied forces fought heavy battles at both ends of South Vietnam's northern frontier Friday and reported killing 330 enemy soldiers, many of them with a sheet of machine-gun fire from armored vehicles.

In the area of one of the battles, in which South Vietnamese rangers at Khe Sanh reported killing 70 enemy attackers Friday, U.S. B52 bombers and smaller fighter-bombers kept up what has become the biggest air campaign of the war.

The eight-engine B52s aimed 1.5 million pounds of bombs in 10 raids Friday and today at North Vietnamese troops tunneling toward the Khe Sanh combat base. One strike was only 750 yards from the allied positions and another was just 1,000 yards away, close enough to shake allied bunkers.

U.S. fighter-bombers flew 187 sorties in the area Friday and pilots reported setting off eight secondary explosions and several fires in a North Vietnamese storage area and truck park, indicating they hit ammunition or fuel.

Some 500 Vietnamese rangers, guarding Khe Sanh along with 5,000 U.S. Marines against an expected massive Communist assault, repulsed 500 North Vietnamese who made a probing attack Friday.

Other South Vietnamese troops used the armored vehicles, personnel carriers with heavy machine guns, in a clash at the eastern end of the frontier. They were sweeping south of the Cua Viet River while a special U.S. Marine landing team of perhaps 1,000 men swept the north side, about seven miles south of the eastern end of the demilitarized zone.

The government force reported killing 203 Communist soldiers, and said eight South Vietnamese were killed and 25 wounded.

The U.S. Marine unit came ashore from boats in the South China Sea more than a month ago for its operation in the enemy stronghold area, coastal marshlands dotted by villages, sand dunes and hedgerows.

It ran into heavy fire Friday and spokesmen said 36 Communists and 22 Marines were killed and 87 Marines wounded in the day-long battle that followed.

The allied forces swepeing through the CUA Viet Deta are trying to take Communist pressure off the provincial capital of Quang Tri, seven miles to the south, and to keep open Highway 1, a key supply route to allied bases from Da Nang to the northern frontier.

Just to the west of the delta, U.S. Marines reported killing 21 enemy troops with artillery after a Communist force of unknown size was spotted moving in the open two miles north of Con Thien.

In air raids on North Vietnam, all-weather Navy A6 Intruders attacked one of four vital highway bridges in the key port city of Haiphong and a cargo transfer and storage complex on the Red River only 1.8 miles southeast of the center of Hanoi.

The Haiphong bridge attacked Friday is only one mile west of the center of the city, on the main route to Hanoi. The raiders also attacked a railroad yard halfway along that route in one of 69 missions for the day. Earlier this week, the Intruders attacked a yard in Haiphong, just west of the bridge.

Senate Clips Cloture Try Third Time

Fourth Bid Slated Monday To Choke Off Rights Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The floor manager of the civil rights bill, impatient at the Senate's refusal to choke debate on it and get on to a vote, says Americans are asking: "What in God's name are you doing? Why don't you act?"

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., commented Friday as the Senate refused for a third time to vote for cloture. A fourth attempt will be made Monday but the outcome is in doubt.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen, who proposed the cloture move, said if the new attempt fails, he thinks Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield will want to put the bill aside and take up other legislation.

But Mansfield told newsmen only that he would assess the situation after the vote.

The cloture vote Friday was the first since the introduction of the compromise hammered out by Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen and a bipartisan bloc of liberals.

Dirksen had confidently predicted the cloture move would succeed, as had Hart. But the 59-35 vote was four short of the required two-thirds majority.

The only two Republican senators who joined with Dirksen in switching to support of cloture were his son-in-law, Howard H. Baker of Tennessee, and Len B. Jordan of Idaho. Nineteen other Republicans also voted for ending the debate.

In the earlier stages of the debate that began Jan. 17, Dirksen had fought against including open housing in the legislation and urged the Senate not "to gag itself" by voting for cloture.

Sen. Sam J. Ervin, Jr., D-N.C., a leader of the Southern foes of the civil rights measure, was jubilant after the vote.

"The minority leader, with all his dramatic somersaults, was able to carry only two Republican senators with him, and one of them was his son-in-law," Ervin told reporters.

Rockefeller Says He's Ready To Be GOP's Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he won't enter primary battles but is "ready and willing" to become the Republican presidential nominee if the party wants him.

But former Vice President Richard M. Nixon contends no one will be drafted for the nomination.

Rockefeller put himself on call Friday "to serve the American people" "if there is "a genuine feeling on the part of the party that that's what they want.

He alone will decide, the governor told a news conference, and when and if there is sufficient evidence of support to indicate he could get the 667 convention votes necessary for the nomination. But he shied away from taking the usual political risk—primary fights—in pursuit of the prize.

In marching to the brink of active candidacy, the New York governor laid down some ground rules calculated to avoid any brawling contest in the primaries with Nixon. He will not let his name go on the ballot in any of them, he said, because to do so would cause dissent within the party.

Asked why such a move would threaten a party split, he replied: "Well, I had experience once before, four years ago."

This was a reference to his defeat by Barry Goldwater in the 1964 California primary which sealed Goldwater's nomination. It also was an allusion to complaints at that time by moderate Republicans that Rockefeller wouldn't get out of the way in time to let anyone else challenge Goldwater.

Rockefeller discounted in advance the effects of write-in drives for him. He said he will not visit either New Hampshire or Oregon where such drives are under way.

Rockefeller said there isn't time left to do anything effective in New Hampshire's March 12 primary. As for the May 28 Oregon primary, he said it would not be meaningful because Nixon would be the only major candidate entered there.

Rap Papers' Criticism Of Salary Hike

Other Officials To Get Boost; Annual Assembly In Bill

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's 107th General Assembly approved the administration's $759 million bond issue, hiked the pay of legislators and other officials, and then adjourned early today until a final clean-up session March 20.

The actions capped a grueling and emotionally charged legislative day in which leaders brought into the open their resentment of newspaper criticism of the bill which will boost their pay from $8,000 to $12,750 a year.

House Speaker Charles F. Kurfess R-3 Wood, in a rare floor speech, charged that the legislature has been "castigated by the press of this state" and asserted that the attack has amounted to "a castigation of representative government."

The speaker hushed the House for more than 15 minutes. He drew applause when he ended by saying none of the lawmakers "have to hang your heads to vote for this bill."

He said the pay raise was not an increase for specific individuals because "no one in this House has the right to assume he will be here two years from now. We are establishing a compensation for a position of public trust."

The House approved the bill 68-23 and some members conceded afterward they changed their votes to yes after hearing Kurfess speak.

Senators who had approved the measure earlier with a legislative salary of $13,500 approved the $12,750 conference committee version and other changes by a 29-3 vote. Dis-

Action Slated Again On City Gas Rate Hike

An ordinance providing for a rate increase in a new four-year agreement with the Ohio Valley Gas Co. is scheduled for second reading at City Council's first March meeting Monday night at 8.

The legislation was given first reading by a split vote at the meeting Feb. 19. If Council approves, it will go into effect April 18.

The 1966-67 Council enacted a four - year agreement with the utility shortly before leaving office Dec. 31. The present Council, at its first meeting of 1968, repealed the former rate ordinance.

The previous legislation would have granted the gas company a rate boost averaging out to 12.33 per cent over the four years. Solicitor J. Michael Kapp told Council the new legislation, with an average increase of 11.88 per cent, will save 6,-

Spock Files Motion Against Draft Laws

BOSTON (AP) — Dr. Benjamin Spock, seeking dismissal of a federal indictment against him, has filed a motion challenging the constitutionality of U.S. draft laws.

Spock, the author and pediatrician, filed the motion in U.S. District Court Friday. He, William Sloane Coffin Jr., Yale University chaplain, and three others were indicted Jan. 5.

All have pleaded innocent to charges of conspiring to counsel youths to avoid the draft. If convicted, they could be sentenced to five years in prison and fined $10,000.

Over 20 Million Are Recipients

Social Security Checks Fatter Beginning Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 20 million Americans, young and old, are receiving fatter Social Security checks starting today.

And the government is adding nearly half a million more persons to the Social Security rolls under the legislation enacted by Congress late last year.

The benefit increase, at least 13 per cent for everyone and higher in some cases, is the first since a 7 per cent hike in July 1965.

The dollar total of the increase is the largest ever for the system: $2.9 billion over what would have been paid this year. The average couple's check goes from about $145 to $165.

Maximum benefits for a couple increases from $213 to $230; the maximum for a single person goes from $142 to $160. Smallest monthly payment to a worker who retired at age 65 reaches $55, from $44.

To finance the increase, the government will take a bigger bite from workers' earnings. But only one in four will have more deducted this year. That's because the percentage withholding stays the same this year —a maximum of 4.4 per cent— though it is applied now to earnings up to $7,800 instead of $6,000.

The take goes up thereafter, however, to a maximum of 5.9 per cent in 1987.

Congress also voted expanded coverage and benefits effective with today's checks.

People 72 or older who had little or no past earnings under Social Security will get $40 instead of $35 and couples receive $60 a month, an increase of $7.50.

Liberalized rules will add about 465,000 persons to Social Security rolls. About 175,000 are children of women workers who have died, retired or become disabled. About 100,000 others are workers who became disabled before age 31.

Widows can receive benefits as early as age 50 under the new law.

Another change permits Social Security beneficiaries to earn $1,680 a year before any deductions are made from benefits. The old figure was $1,500.

On April 1, several new benefits take effect in the medicare program of health care for the elderly under Social Security.

And persons 65 or over who have not signed up for the voluntary doctor-bill portion of medicare have until April 1 to do so. Otherwise they'll have to wait until 1969 to join. Monthly premium for the plan increases from $3 to $4 April 1.

Teachers Threaten 'Biggest Picket Line'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Striking school teachers threaten to throw up "the biggest picket line in the history of Pittsburgh" to back up demands for a bargaining election.

The head of the union says the teachers will march at the city's board of education headquarters on Monday — the same day that teachers all over the state are expected to take a holiday to dramatize their demands for more pay.

Pittsburgh's 24 secondary schools — some of them battered by vandals when the strike started Thursday — will remain closed until at least Tuesday.

Youth Jailed After Return For Robbery

Mike Ryan, 18, formerly of 215 W. 7th St., East Liverpool, is in the County Jail at Lisbon in lieu of $3,500 bond set Friday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

The January grand jury indicted Ryan secretly on a charge of robbery Oct. 20 at the Little Diner on Harvey Ave. and harboring and concealing a felon. The court set $2,500 bond on the first charge and $1,000 bond on the latter.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan returned Ryan to this county Thursday from Upper Marlboro, Md., and took him before Judge Buzzard yesterday. Ryan left the area before being served with the indictments and the sheriff filed an unlawful flight warrant with the FBI. The defendant was apprehended last weekend.

Ryan said he has no money to hire a lawyer, so Judge Buzzard appointed Paul Tobin of East Liverpool as defense counsel.

Youths Held For Burglary At Coal Mine

Two 19-year-old area youths and a juvenile are in custody in Beaver County today in connection with the theft of tools from a Shippingport area coal mine late Friday night.

The three first were halted in Chester during an auto check and were turned over to Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa after they were unable to explain to the satisfaction of Chester police why they were carrying the mine tools in the car.

After further questioning at Chippewa, Charles Frederick McKinnon of Fisher Ave., East Liverpool, and Robert Leroy McKinnon of 619 Main St., Wellsville, and the 17 - year-old were charged with the theft of tools from the Pegg Run Coal Co. in Greene Township.

About $415 worth of tools and equipment were taken from the mine, state police said.

The two older youths were placed in the Beaver County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bond after

FBI Spurs Hunt For Bank Bandit

NEW WATERFORD — FBI agents today pressed investigation of a $10,900 armed holdup at the New Waterford Bank Friday in which the masked robber exchanged shots with Charles Koch, bank vice president.

Koch today said the loot from the holdup has been set at $10,-900 — all from four tellers' drawers and the drive-in window.

KOCH WAS sitting in his office talking to an orchardist when the robber came into the bank on Silliman St. about 11:30 a. m., waving a pistol and carrying several shopping bags.

The bandit, in a loud voice, ordered the tellers to put the money in the sacks.

When he left, Koch went outside and with a 7.65 caliber pistol, which he keeps loaded in a drawer at his office, fired at the robber. The bandit was described as in his late 30s or early 40s.

The man, who was headed east on Silliman St. toward the getaway car near the fire station, fired back. He got in the car driven by an accomplice and the pair fled east on Route 46 in a 1957 dark-colored Chevrolet.

Calls In Other Union Chiefs

Reuther To Hurl Charges At Meany During Caucus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auto Workers President Walter Reuther has called a private caucus to lay before other union chiefs his bitter charges against AFL-CIO President George Meany's leadership of American labor.

For more than a year, Reuther has been describing that leadership as "undemocratic," "complacent," "vegetating" and "stagnant."

"I want to talk with you about the differences between the Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO," Reuther said in telegrams inviting several union presidents to the caucus in New York's Roosevelt Hotel March 8.

Reuther appears nearing a decision on whether to pull his 1.5 million Auto Workers out of the 14-million-member AFL-CIO in what would be a major schism in labor's ranks.

Although it was not known how many invitations to the New York meeting went out, presidents of three AFL-CIO unions confirmed receiving them.

They are Max Greenberg of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union; William Pollock, of the Textile Workers Union of America; and Charles Cogen of the American Federation of Teachers.

Some telegrams inviting union presidents were sent without stating the reason. Others said Reuther wanted to discuss his split with Meany, the man with whom he joined to merge the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations into the AFL-CIO in 1955.

Wetzel Votes For Pay Hike In Assembly

By WILLIAM MERRIMAN
Review Correspondent

COLUMBUS — State Rep. Clarence L. Wetzel (R) of Columbiana County supported a pay raise bill which passed the Ohio House Friday night.

Wetzel said, he couldn't have voted for the Senate version of the bill, raising legislature's annual pay by $5,500, but felt a more moderate $4,500 tied to a provision for annual sessions was justified.

He added his job demands a great deal of time, regardless of whether or not legislature is in session.

"My home telephone bill in just taking care of legislature business is about $100 a month," he pointed out.

The bill also provides 20 per cent increases for county officials, and hikes from $18,520 to $24,900 salaries for Common Pleas Judges in Columbiana County.

Here is a breakdown of salary increase for Columbiana County officials: Auditor: $11,-500 to $13,800; Treasurer: $11,-100 to $13,320; Sheriff: $9,400 to $11,280; Clerk of Courts: $11,300 to $13,540; Recorder: $9,-400 to $11,280; Commissioners: $8,250 to $9,900; Prosecutor: $10,500 to $12,600; Engineer: $12,350 to $15,709; and Coroner: $5,450 to $7,630.

WASHINGTON (AP) — More than 20 million Americans, young and old, are receiving fatter Social Security checks starting today.

And the government is adding nearly half a million more persons to the Social Security rolls under the legislation enacted by Congress late last year.

The benefit increase, at least 13 per cent for everyone and higher in some cases, is the first since a 7 per cent hike in July 1965.

The dollar total of the increase is the largest ever for the system: $2.9 billion over what would have been paid this year. The average couple's check goes from about $145 to $165.

Maximum benefits for a couple increases from $213 to $230; the maximum for a single person goes from $142 to $160. Smallest monthly payment to a worker who retired at age 65 reaches $55, from $44.

To finance the increase, the government will take a bigger bite from workers' earnings. But only one in four will have more deducted this year. That's because the percentage withholding stays the same this year —a maximum of 4.4 per cent— though it is applied now to earnings up to $7,800 instead of $6,000.

The take goes up thereafter, however, to a maximum of 5.9 per cent in 1987.

Congress also voted expanded coverage and benefits effective with today's checks.

People 72 or older who had little or no past earnings under Social Security will get $40 instead of $35 and couples receive $60 a month, an increase of $7.50.

Liberalized rules will add about 465,000 persons to Social Security rolls. About 175,000 are children of women workers who have died, retired or become disabled. About 100,000 others are workers who became disabled before age 31.

Widows can receive benefits as early as age 50 under the new law.

Another change permits Social Security beneficiaries to earn $1,680 a year before any deductions are made from benefits. The old figure was $1,500.

On April 1, several new benefits take effect in the medicare program of health care for the elderly under Social Security.

And persons 65 or over who have not signed up for the voluntary doctor-bill portion of medicare have until April 1 to do so. Otherwise they'll have to wait until 1969 to join. Monthly premium for the plan increases from $3 to $4 April 1.

Teachers Threaten 'Biggest Picket Line'

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Striking school teachers threaten to throw up "the biggest picket line in the history of Pittsburgh" to back up demands for a bargaining election.

The head of the union says the teachers will march at the city's board of education headquarters on Monday — the same day that teachers all over the state are expected to take a holiday to dramatize their demands for more pay.

Pittsburgh's 24 secondary schools — some of them battered by vandals when the strike started Thursday — will remain closed until at least Tuesday.

Youth Jailed After Return For Robbery

Mike Ryan, 18, formerly of 215 W. 7th St., East Liverpool, is in the County Jail at Lisbon in lieu of $3,500 bond set Friday by Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

The January grand jury indicted Ryan secretly on a charge of robbery Oct. 20 at the Little Diner on Harvey Ave. and harboring and concealing a felon. The court set $2,500 bond on the first charge and $1,000 bond on the latter.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan returned Ryan to this county Thursday from Upper Marlboro, Md., and took him before Judge Buzzard yesterday. Ryan left the area before being served with the indictments and the sheriff filed an unlawful flight warrant with the FBI. The defendant was apprehended last weekend.

Ryan said he has no money to hire a lawyer, so Judge Buzzard appointed Paul Tobin of East Liverpool as defense counsel.

Youths Held For Burglary At Coal Mine

Two 19-year-old area youths and a juvenile are in custody in Beaver County today in connection with the theft of tools from a Shippingport area coal mine late Friday night.

The three first were halted in Chester during an auto check and were turned over to Pennsylvania state police at Chippewa after they were unable to explain to the satisfaction of Chester police why they were carrying the mine tools in the car.

After further questioning at Chippewa, Charles Frederick McKinnon of Fisher Ave., East Liverpool, and Robert Leroy McKinnon of 619 Main St., Wellsville, and the 17 - year-old were charged with the theft of tools from the Pegg Run Coal Co. in Greene Township.

About $415 worth of tools and equipment were taken from the mine, state police said.

The two older youths were placed in the Beaver County Jail in lieu of $2,500 bond after

Calls In Other Union Chiefs

Reuther To Hurl Charges At Meany During Caucus

WASHINGTON (AP) — Auto Workers President Walter Reuther has called a private caucus to lay before other union chiefs his bitter charges against AFL-CIO President George Meany's leadership of American labor.

For more than a year, Reuther has been describing that leadership as "undemocratic," "complacent," "vegetating" and "stagnant."

"I want to talk with you about the differences between the Auto Workers and the AFL-CIO," Reuther said in telegrams inviting several union presidents to the caucus in New York's Roosevelt Hotel March 8.

Reuther appears nearing a decision on whether to pull his 1.5 million Auto Workers out of the 14-million-member AFL-CIO in what would be a major schism in labor's ranks.

Although it was not known how many invitations to the New York meeting went out, presidents of three AFL-CIO unions confirmed receiving them.

They are Max Greenberg of the Retail, Wholesale and Department Store Union; William Pollock, of the Textile Workers Union of America; and Charles Cogen of the American Federation of Teachers.

Some telegrams inviting union presidents were sent without stating the reason. Others said Reuther wanted to discuss his split with Meany, the man with whom he joined to merge the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations into the AFL-CIO in 1955.

Driver Cited After Mishap In Wellsville

John Walker, 52, of Oak Grove Rd. was cited for reckless operation after his 1957 sedan hit a truck parked on Main St. near 5th St. in Wellsville this morning.

Walker told police an approaching vehicle forced him to the right and into the rear of the truck.

Walker's car was moderately damaged on the right front in the mishap which occurred at 12:40 a. m., police reported.

Walter Cross, 49, of 1359 Hillcrest Rd. was injured in a car-truck mishap, at the intersection of Routes 7 and 45 Friday at 12:25 p. m. witnessed by three Wellsville police officers on alert for a holdup pair in the New Waterford Bank robbery.

The three officers, manning a road block, said Cross's car stopped for a traffic light, was struck from behind by a truck operated by Harold R. Aubel, 43, of Girard.

Aubel told police he was watching the signal light and failed to see the auto.

Cross was treated at Osteopathic Hospital.

Aubel was cited for reckless operation, and posted a $25 appearance bond, police said.

Slippery streets were blamed for another car - truck mishap at the intersection of Route 7 and 3rd St. Friday at 7:30 a.m.

Police said a car operated by Elbert Talkington of Birch Rd., East Liverpool, was slightly damaged on the side when a truck operated by George Vidish of Steubenville slid left of center into the side of the auto.

Slight damage resulted Friday at 8:30 p. m. when a car operated by Steven C. Crea, 16, of 984 Main St. struck a car owned by Charles E. McDowell, which was parked in front of his home at 1023 Center St.

Crea said a dashboard decoration fell to the floor, and he lost control when he attempted to retrieve it.

Road Plans Set At Weirton Steel

WEIRTON — In order to permit one - way traffic on truck shipments into the Strip Steel Department, the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp. will construct a road from Cove Rd. to the strip steel building.

J. G. Redline, president, said a new door will be placed at the southeast corner of the building and the new road from that point will parallel the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks underneath the Lee Ave. bridge. The road will cross the tracks at grade level south of the bridge and join Cove Rd. at the point where trucks come onto the road from the company's acid disposal storage tanks.

Work on the new asphalt road will begin in the near future and is expected to require four to six weeks. A house owned by Weirton Steel will be dismantled to make way for the project.

Redline said with completion of the road, trucks will no longer enter the Strip Steel Department through the No. 5 gate on Main St. at Virginia Ave., since a ramp descending to mill floor level inside the gate will be removed to make way for a new scarfing bed.

Truck traffic will move one way through the department, using the new road and an existing road at the north end of the Strip Steel.

Assembly

senting were Sens. Ralph S. Regula R-29 Stark, Robin T. Turner R-14 Marion, and Paul E. Gillmor R-12 Seneca.

The conferees left unchanged a 20 per cent pay increase for county officials, except engineers. A flat $2,000 hike for county engineers, added in the House, was struck out by conferees and replaced by a sliding scale increase based on population.

The new scale ranges from a 30 per cent increase for engineers in counties less than 40,000 population, to 20 per cent for counties larger than 600,000.

The House made other major changes in the bill which the conference committee left intact. These included a provision under which leaders can call annual sessions of the assembly by recessing from one year to the next. Odd - year sessions would start as usual on Jan. 1 and those in even years would begin no later than March 15.

Also inserted by the House were two new leadership posts in that chamber — a majority floor leader (who would serve in addition to the present speaker pro tem) at $14,500 a year and an assistant minority leader who would receive $13,500.

The House also cut proposed leadership salaries voted by the Senate at the request of Kurfess and Minority Leader John C. McDonald D-19 Licking. The House speaker and president pro tem of the Senate were cut from $18,500 to $16,500; House and Senate minority leaders from $16,000 to $14,500.

Conference committees ground out compromises on all but two other major issues before leaders decided to quit shortly after 2 a.m. Those are a constitutional resolution that would permit public officeholders under certain stituations to receive salary increases during current terms and require school boards to recognize majority teacher organizations for collective bargaining purposes.

Both remained bogged down in conference committees.

The lawmakers placed three constitutional amendments on the May primary ballot and two on the November ballot. The fall ballot will include the bond issue and a proposal that could result in a tax break for Ohio's elderly homeowners.

On the May ballot will be a proposal for judicial reform, another spelling out a new method for filling House vacancies, and a third permitting the state to sell certain ministerial lands protected by antiquated statutes.

Surprisingly, the chips fell quickly into place on an embattled riot control bill.

A conference committee stuck fairly close to the Senate version of the bill, considerably weaker than the House-passed version. Committee changes deleted authority of police to control movement of persons in riot areas but at the same time set a $50 fine for refusal to obey orders to disperse when a crowd creates a "clear and present danger."

The final form of the bond issue includes an added $9 million to what had been a $750 million figure, with the additional funds earmarked for airport development and historical facilities.

Youth predominates in both the Soviet Union and United States. More than half the population in each country is 26 years old or younger.

3 Local 'Leap Year Babies' Enjoy Birthday Observances

It's a long time between cakes for those born during "Leap Year."

So three local residents enjoyed birthday observances this week with added enthusiasm.

Mrs. Ines Wright of 419 Sugar St. was surprised with a party celebrating her "16th" birthday anniversary Wednesday afternoon at the Salvation Army Citadel.

She was born Feb. 29, 1904, in Allegheny, Pa., and has resided in East Liverpool for almost 60 years.

She is the wife of Alfred Wright. They have two sons, John Wright of Erie St. and Dale Wright of College St., and two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Corbett of Vine St. and Mrs. Charles (Bonnie) Brooks of Burbank, Calif.

There are 12 grandchildren and two great - grandchildren.

The party was arranged by members of the Ladies Home League, who served refreshments. Favors were airplanes made from stick candy and lifesavers. The buffet table was centered with a cake featuring 16 candles, actually representing her 64th birthday.

Mrs. Wright was presented with cards and gifts.

TWELVE BOYS helped Earl H. Beaver Jr. celebrate his "second" birthday anniversary Thursday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Beaver of Holliday St.

He was born Feb. 29, 1960, at City Hospital, the only "Leap Year" baby then.

Actually eight years old, he is a second - grade student at Horace Mann.

Games and contests were played, with prizes going to Lonnie Jackson, Jack Corxall and Roy Burson.

Earl's father took films of the activities.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Susan Seevers and Miss Sherry Boso. The buffet table was centered with a decorated birthday cake.

DINNER OUT and a family gathering highlighted the "16th" birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eunice Whealdon of 1674 Etruria St.

She was born Feb. 29, 1904, and celebrated the event Thursday.

A native of Laings, Ohio, she has resided here since 1922.

Mrs. Whealdon is the wife of Russell Whealdon. They have a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Ruth Ann) Johnson of Orchard St., and a grandson, Bobbie.

Mrs. Wambaugh Heads Ohio Delegation At BPW Meeting

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, president, led the Ohio delegation to the biennial legislative conference of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which closed in Washington Friday.

Approximately 250 leaders from the 53 state federations attended the meeting which opened Wednesday to report progress on the legislative platform and evaluate new developments.

Others who attended from Ohio included Miss Catherine Durkin, Cleveland attorney, legal consultant to the state legislation committee; Mrs. Sarah Branson of Akron, state legislation chairman, and Dr. Ruth Morris of Toledo, chairman of the W.R.A.P. (Women Responsible for Accident Prevention).

Equal rights for women, equal employment opportunities and state - level restrictions on women's employment were the major items on the agenda.

Key items on the program were:

A forum to discuss the proposed constitutional amendment on equal rights for women, along with alternative proposals. Reps. Catherine May (R-Wash.), Martha Griffiths (D-Mich.) and Theodore Kupferman (R-N.Y.) participated.

Situation report on the operations of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission by Commissioner Samuel Jackson.

A workshop on status of state "protective" legislation.

Breakfast on Capitol Hill with senators and representatives followed by individual conferences with them.

Other phases of the agenda included an address by Clark Mollenhoff, Washington newsman; a tour of the State Department and briefing on Human Rights Year, and a briefing by Rep. William Roth (R-Del.) on "how to approach your congressman effectively."

Council also will act on two pieces of legislation authorizing the administration to advertise for bids on two new police cruisers and providing $5,200 for the purchase. The legislation provides two 1967 Chevrolet four-door sedans now used as cruisers would be used as trade-ins on the new cars.

Council also will act on a routine resolution designating the First National Bank and the Potters Bank & Trust Co. as "official depositories" for city funds.

Monday's session will begin at 7 with a scheduled public hearing on applications to change the zoning classification of a tract of property along Pennsylvania Ave., East End. The request has been pending since last fall. The applicants seek to change the zoning classification from "residential" to "business" to permit erection of a new service station.

Action Slated In 5th Link Of Expressway

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Highways Department said today it has submitted to federal authorities for approval the fifth link of the $50 million Beaver Valley Expressway.

The link consists of 2.8 miles in Moon and Findlay Townships of Allegheny County.

It extends two miles north of the Greater Pittsburgh Airport to the Beaver County line near Aliquippa. The project is expected to cost about $5 million.

Driver Cited After Mishap In Wellsville

John Walker, 52, of Oak Grove Rd. was cited for reckless operation after his 1957 sedan hit a truck parked on Main St. near 5th St. in Wellsville this morning.

Walker told police an approaching vehicle forced him to the right and into the rear of the truck.

Walker's car was moderately damaged on the right front in the mishap which occurred at 12:40 a. m., police reported.

Walter Cross, 49, of 1359 Hillcrest Rd. was injured in a car-truck mishap, at the intersection of Routes 7 and 45 Friday at 12:25 p. m. witnessed by three Wellsville police officers on alert for a holdup pair in the New Waterford Bank robbery.

The three officers, manning a road block, said Cross's car stopped for a traffic light, was struck from behind by a truck operated by Harold R. Aubel, 43, of Girard.

Aubel told police he was watching the signal light and failed to see the auto.

Cross was treated at Osteopathic Hospital.

Aubel was cited for reckless operation, and posted a $25 appearance bond, police said.

Slippery streets were blamed for another car - truck mishap at the intersection of Route 7 and 3rd St. Friday at 7:30 a.m.

Police said a car operated by Elbert Talkington of Birch Rd., East Liverpool, was slightly damaged on the side when a truck operated by George Vidish of Steubenville slid left of center into the side of the auto.

Slight damage resulted Friday at 8:30 p. m. when a car operated by Steven C. Crea, 16, of 984 Main St. struck a car owned by Charles E. McDowell, which was parked in front of his home at 1023 Center St.

Crea said a dashboard decoration fell to the floor, and he lost control when he attempted to retrieve it.

Road Plans Set At Weirton Steel

WEIRTON — In order to permit one - way traffic on truck shipments into the Strip Steel Department, the Weirton Steel Division of the National Steel Corp. will construct a road from Cove Rd. to the strip steel building.

J. G. Redline, president, said a new door will be placed at the southeast corner of the building and the new road from that point will parallel the Pennsylvania Railroad tracks underneath the Lee Ave. bridge. The road will cross the tracks at grade level south of the bridge and join Cove Rd. at the point where trucks come onto the road from the company's acid disposal storage tanks.

Work on the new asphalt road will begin in the near future and is expected to require four to six weeks. A house owned by Weirton Steel will be dismantled to make way for the project.

Redline said with completion of the road, trucks will no longer enter the Strip Steel Department through the No. 5 gate on Main St. at Virginia Ave., since a ramp descending to mill floor level inside the gate will be removed to make way for a new scarfing bed.

Truck traffic will move one way through the department, using the new road and an existing road at the north end of the Strip Steel.

Assembly

senting were Sens. Ralph S. Regula R-29 Stark, Robin T. Turner R-14 Marion, and Paul E. Gillmor R-12 Seneca.

The conferees left unchanged a 20 per cent pay increase for county officials, except engineers. A flat $2,000 hike for county engineers, added in the House, was struck out by conferees and replaced by a sliding scale increase based on population.

The new scale ranges from a 30 per cent increase for engineers in counties less than 40,000 population, to 20 per cent for counties larger than 600,000.

The House made other major changes in the bill which the conference committee left intact. These included a provision under which leaders can call annual sessions of the assembly by recessing from one year to the next. Odd - year sessions would start as usual on Jan. 1 and those in even years would begin no later than March 15.

Also inserted by the House were two new leadership posts in that chamber — a majority floor leader (who would serve in addition to the present speaker pro tem) at $14,500 a year and an assistant minority leader who would receive $13,500.

The House also cut proposed leadership salaries voted by the Senate at the request of Kurfess and Minority Leader John C. McDonald D-19 Licking. The House speaker and president pro tem of the Senate were cut from $18,500 to $16,500; House and Senate minority leaders from $16,000 to $14,500.

Conference committees ground out compromises on all but two other major issues before leaders decided to quit shortly after 2 a.m. Those are a constitutional resolution that would permit public officeholders under certain stituations to receive salary increases during current terms and require school boards to recognize majority teacher organizations for collective bargaining purposes.

Both remained bogged down in conference committees.

The lawmakers placed three constitutional amendments on the May primary ballot and two on the November ballot. The fall ballot will include the bond issue and a proposal that could result in a tax break for Ohio's elderly homeowners.

On the May ballot will be a proposal for judicial reform, another spelling out a new method for filling House vacancies, and a third permitting the state to sell certain ministerial lands protected by antiquated statutes.

Surprisingly, the chips fell quickly into place on an embattled riot control bill.

A conference committee stuck fairly close to the Senate version of the bill, considerably weaker than the House-passed version. Committee changes deleted authority of police to control movement of persons in riot areas but at the same time set a $50 fine for refusal to obey orders to disperse when a crowd creates a "clear and present danger."

The final form of the bond issue includes an added $9 million to what had been a $750 million figure, with the additional funds earmarked for airport development and historical facilities.

3 Local 'Leap Year Babies' Enjoy Birthday Observances

It's a long time between cakes for those born during "Leap Year."

So three local residents enjoyed birthday observances this week with added enthusiasm.

Mrs. Ines Wright of 419 Sugar St. was surprised with a party celebrating her "16th" birthday anniversary Wednesday afternoon at the Salvation Army Citadel.

She was born Feb. 29, 1904, in Allegheny, Pa., and has resided in East Liverpool for almost 60 years.

She is the wife of Alfred Wright. They have two sons, John Wright of Erie St. and Dale Wright of College St., and two daughters, Mrs. Virginia Corbett of Vine St. and Mrs. Charles (Bonnie) Brooks of Burbank, Calif.

There are 12 grandchildren and two great - grandchildren.

The party was arranged by members of the Ladies Home League, who served refreshments. Favors were airplanes made from stick candy and lifesavers. The buffet table was centered with a cake featuring 16 candles, actually representing her 64th birthday.

Mrs. Wright was presented with cards and gifts.

TWELVE BOYS helped Earl H. Beaver Jr. celebrate his "second" birthday anniversary Thursday night at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Beaver of Holliday St.

He was born Feb. 29, 1960, at City Hospital, the only "Leap Year" baby then.

Actually eight years old, he is a second - grade student at Horace Mann.

Games and contests were played, with prizes going to Lonnie Jackson, Jack Corxall and Roy Burson.

Earl's father took films of the activities.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Susan Seevers and Miss Sherry Boso. The buffet table was centered with a decorated birthday cake.

—:—

DINNER OUT and a family gathering highlighted the "16th" birthday anniversary of Mrs. Eunice Whealdon of 1674 Etruria St.

She was born Feb. 29, 1904, and celebrated the event Thursday.

A native of Laings, Ohio, she has resided here since 1922.

Mrs. Whealdon is the wife of Russell Whealdon. They have a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Ruth Ann) Johnson of Orchard St., and a grandson, Bobbie.

Mrs. Wambaugh Heads Ohio Delegation At BPW Meeting

Mrs. Ethel Lynn Wambaugh, president, led the Ohio delegation to the biennial legislative conference of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs which closed in Washington Friday.

Approximately 250 leaders from the 53 state federations attended the meeting which opened Wednesday to report progress on the legislative platform and evaluate new developments.

Others who attended from Ohio included Miss Catherine Durkin, Cleveland attorney, legal consultant to the state legislation committee; Mrs. Sarah Branson of Akron, state legislation chairman, and Dr. Ruth Morris of Toledo, chairman of the W.R.A.P. (Women Responsible for Accident Prevention).

Equal rights for women, equal employment opportunities and state - level restrictions on women's employment were the major items on the agenda.

Key items on the program were:

A forum to discuss the proposed constitutional amendment on equal rights for women, along with alternative proposals. Reps. Catherine May (R-Wash.), Martha Griffiths (D-Mich.) and Theodore Kupferman (R-N.Y.) participated.

Situation report on the operations of the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission by Commissioner Samuel Jackson.

A workshop on status of state "protective" legislation.

Breakfast on Capitol Hill with senators and representatives followed by individual conferences with them.

Other phases of the agenda included an address by Clark Mollenhoff, Washington newsman; a tour of the State Department and briefing on Human Rights Year, and a briefing by Rep. William Roth (R-Del.) on "how to approach your congressman effectively."

Council also will act on two pieces of legislation authorizing the administration to advertise for bids on two new police cruisers and providing $5,200 for the purchase. The legislation provides two 1967 Chevrolet four-door sedans now used as cruisers would be used as trade-ins on the new cars.

Council also will act on a routine resolution designating the First National Bank and the Potters Bank & Trust Co. as "official depositories" for city funds.

Monday's session will begin at 7 with a scheduled public hearing on applications to change the zoning classification of a tract of property along Pennsylvania Ave., East End. The request has been pending since last fall. The applicants seek to change the zoning classification from "residential" to "business" to permit erection of a new service station.

Action Slated In 5th Link Of Expressway

HARRISBURG (AP) — The Pennsylvania Highways Department said today it has submitted to federal authorities for approval the fifth link of the $50 million Beaver Valley Expressway.

The link consists of 2.8 miles in Moon and Findlay Townships of Allegheny County.

It extends two miles north of the Greater Pittsburgh Airport to the Beaver County line near Aliquippa. The project is expected to cost about $5 million.

Bank

Simmons, an orchardist, when he spotted the robbery taking place.

Mary Parker of East Palestine was eating her lunch in a part of the bank behind a glass partition and also saw the holdup under way. She dialed an operator, relayed what was happening, and the operator notified the sheriff's office about 11:45.

DEPUTIES, state patrolmen and other law officers were at the scene in a short time. FBI agents arrived about an hour after the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. Goff Penney of the New Waterford area were the only customers in the bank at the time.

The bank also was held up in 1954 and 1961.

Koch said the tellers did not put all the money into the paper bags. Otherwise, the loss —which is insured — would have been much larger, he pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. Penney watched the proceedings from a shoe-top level; when the bandit entered, he ordered them in a raspy voice to lie down on the floor.

He was wearing a grey ski mask, grey tweed coat, tan trousers and bootlike shoes, and was carrying a chrome - plated revolver.

HE SHOVED the bags to the tellers, ordering them to fill them, adding, "If you leave one dollar, I'll shoot you."

Koch at first thought the man was drunk, and was about to go into the bank foyer. But he saw the weapon, and decided to get his own pistol and wait until the man left, fearing a gun fight inside the building would injure the tellers or customers.

Outside, Koch fired three shots at the bandit, two of them hitting a brick chimney behind which the man leaped for protection from the bullets. The bandit then fired at Koch, who jumped into a doorway.

Koch then fired again at the man while he was running toward the car, parked about 100 yards from the bank.

Timet Names Chorba Operations Executive

Robert T. Chorba of Steubenville began duties Friday as manager of operations at the Titanium Metals Corp. plant in Toronto.

Announcement of the promotion of Chorba from manager of strip operations was made by John Day, plant manager.

Chorba has been with Timet since January 1964, where he started as strip mill superintendent, a new position in a new department with process and equipment developed explicitly for titanium.

Chorba received a degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1948 and one in Industrial Management in 1955, both from Carnegie Institute of Technology.

He served eight years at U.S. Steel's Vandergrift, Pa., silicon strip operations; six years in titanium production with Rem-Cru Titanium, later Crucible Steel, and two years with the Control Data Corp. in systems analysis and sales management.

He is a member of the American Society for Metals and the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers and is a director of the Steubenville Citizens for Better Education. A B-17 navigator in World War II, he was shot down over Germany and spent six months in a prison camp.

He and his wife, Virginia, have two sons, Chris and Roger.

Harris Declared:

Panels May Be Continued If Public Demand Merits

If there is enough public demand, the winter fair meetings conducted this week throughout Columbiana County could become an annual event, Robert Harris of the Social Security office here, said today.

Harris said he was encouraged by the fact that 22 attended the final meeting in East Liverpool Friday night to hear representatives of county and township government discuss their operation and problems.

Headed by County Commissioner Charles Gause, the panel included John Wargo, recorder; John Ursu, engineer; Kenneth Bell, auditor, and James Morrissey, director of the Regional Planning Commission. In addition, the Liverpool township trustees were represented.

Much of the discussion centered on the planning commission's projections on population and problems that will be encountered.

Morrissey presented a summary of the types of situations encountered and projected into the future as far as the year 2,005.

He emphasized the importance the importation of solid waste material from other areas might play and explained it could benefit the county by serving as landfill, especially in strip-mined areas. Morrissey pointed out he was not talking of dirty waste material, but rather that which is packaged and compressed.

He also discussed the maintenance of county roads.

"I think if there is enough public demand for this thing (the meetings just concluded) it could very well go for subsequent years," Harris declared.

"Practically all the panel members have had a real good response to the idea and the interchange of information between one another, even though the attendance has not warranted a lot of optimism," he added.

Harris said the panelists will hold a follow - up session to analyze the results of this year's "fair" and decide whether to continue it.

Harris said there were seven at Salem to hear Donald Hepp, county welfare director, who led a panel there.

At Lisbon, Glen Sprowls of the Internal Revenue Service headed a panel and Arthur Johnson of the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services was moderator. The panel at Columbiana was directed by Mrs. Ruth Rinehart of the Ohio Valley Nursing Service.

The program, which began Monday night, was designed to acquaint residents with the operations and services of governmental and private agencies through meetings around the county.

Western Beaver Will Transport Parochial Group

Frank Meredith, superintendent of Western Beaver Schools, pointed out today that although there will be no classes in the system Monday, transportation will be provided for area students attending Presentation Catholic School at Midland.

The schedule will revert to the original schedule when children were transported without public transportation.

The schedule follows: Run 1 will leave the bus depot at 7:25 a. m. to Route 168, Salem Church, Blackhawk Rd., Fairview School, Wilson Hill to Presentation School.

Run 2 will leave at 7:45 a.m. to Tower Rd., Ohio View, Route 68, through Industry to Presentation School. Run 3 will leave at 7:45 a. m. to Fairview Church, Route 168, Meadowbrook Estates, Onuska's Store to Presentation School.

Chitren will be returned home by the same routes. There will be no bus service to the Sunrise Hills area. Meredith requests that if a child lives on a route not covered the parents take the child to the nearest stop on one of the routes.

Thieves Get $22 In Home Entry

More than $22 was taken from an East End home which was broken into Friday, police reported today.

Dorothy Mountford of 2226 Harvey Ave. said thieves entered her house between 6:15 a.m. and about 4 p.m. and made off with a penny collection, a $20 bill and about $2 in loose change.

Officers who investigated said the thieves first tried to force open a window in a vestibule, but, being unsuccessful, then broke a 5-by-50-inch window in a door, reached inside and unlocked it.

They ransacked every room in the dwelling and scattered the contents of drawers and cabinets.

Bank

Simmons, an orchardist, when he spotted the robbery taking place.

Mary Parker of East Palestine was eating her lunch in a part of the bank behind a glass partition and also saw the holdup under way. She dialed an operator, relayed what was happening, and the operator notified the sheriff's office about 11:45.

DEPUTIES, state patrolmen and other law officers were at the scene in a short time. FBI agents arrived about an hour after the crime.

Mr. and Mrs. Goff Penney of the New Waterford area were the only customers in the bank at the time.

The bank also was held up in 1954 and 1961.

Koch said the tellers did not put all the money into the paper bags. Otherwise, the loss —which is insured — would have been much larger, he pointed out.

Mr. and Mrs. Penney watched the proceedings from a shoe-top level; when the bandit entered, he ordered them in a raspy voice to lie down on the floor.

He was wearing a grey ski mask, grey tweed coat, tan trousers and bootlike shoes, and was carrying a chrome - plated revolver.

HE SHOVED the bags to the tellers, ordering them to fill them, adding, "If you leave one dollar, I'll shoot you."

Koch at first thought the man was drunk, and was about to go into the bank foyer. But he saw the weapon, and decided to get his own pistol and wait until the man left, fearing a gun fight inside the building would injure the tellers or customers.

Outside, Koch fired three shots at the bandit, two of them hitting a brick chimney behind which the man leaped for protection from the bullets. The bandit then fired at Koch, who jumped into a doorway.

Koch then fired again at the man while he was running toward the car, parked about 100 yards from the bank.

Timet Names Chorba Operations Executive

Robert T. Chorba of Steubenville began duties Friday as manager of operations at the Titanium Metals Corp. plant in Toronto.

Announcement of the promotion of Chorba from manager of strip operations was made by John Day, plant manager.

Chorba has been with Timet since January 1964, where he started as strip mill superintendent, a new position in a new department with process and equipment developed explicitly for titanium.

Chorba received a degree in Mechanical Engineering in 1948 and one in Industrial Management in 1955, both from Carnegie Institute of Technology.

He served eight years at U.S. Steel's Vandergrift, Pa., silicon strip operations; six years in titanium production with Rem-Cru Titanium, later Crucible Steel, and two years with the Control Data Corp. in systems analysis and sales management.

He is a member of the American Society for Metals and the Association of Iron and Steel Engineers and is a director of the Steubenville Citizens for Better Education. A B-17 navigator in World War II, he was shot down over Germany and spent six months in a prison camp.

He and his wife, Virginia, have two sons, Chris and Roger.

Panels May Be Continued If Public Demand Merits

If there is enough public demand, the winter fair meetings conducted this week throughout Columbiana County could become an annual event, Robert Harris of the Social Security office here, said today.

Harris said he was encouraged by the fact that 22 attended the final meeting in East Liverpool Friday night to hear representatives of county and township government discuss their operation and problems.

Headed by County Commissioner Charles Gause, the panel included John Wargo, recorder; John Ursu, engineer; Kenneth Bell, auditor, and James Morrissey, director of the Regional Planning Commission. In addition, the Liverpool township trustees were represented.

Much of the discussion centered on the planning commission's projections on population and problems that will be encountered.

Morrissey presented a summary of the types of situations encountered and projected into the future as far as the year 2,005.

He emphasized the importance the importation of solid waste material from other areas might play and explained it could benefit the county by serving as landfill, especially in strip-mined areas. Morrissey pointed out he was not talking of dirty waste material, but rather that which is packaged and compressed.

He also discussed the maintenance of county roads.

"I think if there is enough public demand for this thing (the meetings just concluded) it could very well go for subsequent years," Harris declared.

"Practically all the panel members have had a real good response to the idea and the interchange of information between one another, even though the attendance has not warranted a lot of optimism," he added.

Harris said the panelists will hold a follow - up session to analyze the results of this year's "fair" and decide whether to continue it.

Harris said there were seven at Salem to hear Donald Hepp, county welfare director, who led a panel there.

At Lisbon, Glen Sprowls of the Internal Revenue Service headed a panel and Arthur Johnson of the Ohio Bureau of Employment Services was moderator. The panel at Columbiana was directed by Mrs. Ruth Rinehart of the Ohio Valley Nursing Service.

The program, which began Monday night, was designed to acquaint residents with the operations and services of governmental and private agencies through meetings around the county.

Girl, Boy Win Speech Contest In Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Miss Diane Hughes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hughes of 100 W. North Ave., and Peter Condon, son of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Condon of New Waterford RD 1, were first - place winners of the 60th annual Capt. Taggart prize speech contest held Friday at the high school.

The pair will receive $10 each. The second - place winners were Billie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Brown of 435 W. North Ave., and Louis Bob Danch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Danch of Petersburg.

Planted Tree Honors Wellsville Resident

A tree has been planted near the Hadassah Hebrew University Medical Center in Israel in honor of John E. Baker, operator of Baker's Food Mart at 603 Main St., Wellsville.

The tree was planted by the Jewish National Fund as part of its trees for Israel project under the sponsorship of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Caplan of Steubenville.

Western Beaver Will Transport Parochial Group

Frank Meredith, superintendent of Western Beaver Schools, pointed out today that although there will be no classes in the system Monday, transportation will be provided for area students attending Presentation Catholic School at Midland.

The schedule will revert to the original schedule when children were transported without public transportation.

The schedule follows: Run 1 will leave the bus depot at 7:25 a. m. to Route 168, Salem Church, Blackhawk Rd., Fairview School, Wilson Hill to Presentation School.

Run 2 will leave at 7:45 a.m. to Tower Rd., Ohio View, Route 68, through Industry to Presentation School. Run 3 will leave at 7:45 a. m. to Fairview Church, Route 168, Meadowbrook Estates, Onuska's Store to Presentation School.

Chitren will be returned home by the same routes. There will be no bus service to the Sunrise Hills area. Meredith requests that if a child lives on a route not covered the parents take the child to the nearest stop on one of the routes.

Thieves Get $22 In Home Entry

More than $22 was taken from an East End home which was broken into Friday, police reported today.

Dorothy Mountford of 2226 Harvey Ave. said thieves entered her house between 6:15 a.m. and about 4 p.m. and made off with a penny collection, a $20 bill and about $2 in loose change.

Officers who investigated said the thieves first tried to force open a window in a vestibule, but, being unsuccessful, then broke a 5-by-50-inch window in a door, reached inside and unlocked it.

They ransacked every room in the dwelling and scattered the contents of drawers and cabinets.

When the weather Is at its worst, AAA Is best

We know you'll probably need road service more often in bad weather. And that's what AAA's emergency road service is there for! There are more than 24,000 AAA road-service facilities across the country and each one is ready to serve you whenever you need help. More than 100,000 mechanics on call giving emergency road assistance every 3 seconds during the winter months. Emergency road service is just one of the many AAA membership benefits . . . well worth investigating now.

Clark Clifford On A Hot Seat

Clark M. Clifford, the nation's new secretary of defense is on a hot seat.

Speculation in Washington about Mr. Clifford's role takes two lines.

A dominant feeling in the hotbed of political chatter has it that Mr. Clifford is a caretaker secretary until after the November election.

The other line is that Mr. Clifford's firm position on Vietnam and his personal friendship with President Johnson will keep him in the secretary's job as long as the present administration is in power.

President Johnson feels he is battling enough people over the war without having to knock heads with his defense secretary.

It is known that President Johnson and Robert McNamara did not see eye-to-eye on every aspect of the war.

That will not be the case with the President and Mr. Clifford. President Johnson wanted someone at the top he could count on for full support as future decisions on escalation are made.

The Johnson decisions will not be popular, and the President wants an image of top-level unity as he pursues his reasoning there is no alternative to widening the war.

With the President and the Joint Chiefs of Staff handling Vietnam decisions, Mr. Clifford can turn his attention to other pressing matters in his $76-billion-a-year department.

The Pentagon chief is in charge of 3.4 million military men, and one million civilian employes. He must make vital defense decisions, save money where possible, keep alliances strong and keep lines of communication open to the public, subordinates and the President.

Americans are interested in how Mr. Clifford will go about this immense job. Their future depends on him.

Anyone looking for a change in Vietnam due to Mr. Clifford's appointment can forget it. He got the job because his view coincided with President Johnson's.

About all there is to hope for is that the formula which brought him success in law practice will be applied to areas of military responsibility other than the Vietnam War.

A Graceful Exit

Columbia University has disassociated itself from the Robert L. Strickman cigarette filter.

Controversy has been building over the issue since Columbia praised the Strickman filter as "revolutionary" last July.

Columbia could have had a 51 per cent interest in the device but decided to turn over all rights to the filter to the Strickman Foundation, a charitable foundation organized to advance medical research and education.

While opinions vary about the role Columbia played in the controversial issue and about the university's right to money derived from sale of the filter, there is no argument over the way Columbia severed all ties with the project.

A paragraph from Columbia's statement reads: "The university feels that it owes it to the public to state candidly that it made a well-intentioned mistake in entering a highly controversial and competitive commercial field."

The integrity of Columbia is preserved by the honest manner in which it admitted a mistake was made. A breath of fresh-air honesty is refreshing in an age when many regard the truth as passe.

Hail To The Technicians

The Los Angeles police force has boosted a nationwide break-through of technicians with civilian auxiliaries in traffic control jobs.

Instead of tying down full-fledged policemen to direct traffic, Los Angeles has freed 33 of its 86-member traffic control department for regular police duty and replaced them with civil aids.

The civilians are not required to take a long course of training. They are not paid as much as regular policemen. They wear different uniforms. They are on limited duty, though half a dozen of the original 33 already have shown interest in becoming full-fledged policemen.

Hail to the technicians wherever they bob up!

In some school systems, full-fledged teachers are being replaced by part-time workers who perform the routine chores of the classroom, letting teachers use their training for full-time teaching duty.

In laboratories, technicians routinely perform work that otherwise would have to be done by personnel whose time and training are too valuable to be wasted on tasks that can be performed by assistants.

Modern hospitals couldn't be staffed without a massive influx of aides and technical assistants who supplement the highly trained services of nurses and physicians.

Many cities long have been accustomed to the presence of "meter maids" — women who take charge of watching parking meters, instead of assigning full-duty policemen to this humdrum task.

Higher education acknowledges its debt to teaching assistants — graduate students fully capable of handling classroom chore work not important enough to command the full attention of the regular teaching staff.

The United States has a chronic shortage of highly trained people for key positions in its complex structure. At the same time it has a chronic surplus of people who want to work but are turned away because they lack certain educational credits.

These people are not incapable of working, certainly not incapable of learning. The technical break-through gives them a chance to be useful.

By Martin Miller

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

You hear a lot nowadays about love and hate. We have a shortage of the former, a surplus of the latter. In other words, we have too little love, too much hate.

Take a look around. Anywhere you look, you see people hating other people. Everybody hates somebody else.

This is a heck of a way to run a world.

If you want to attack this crisis, as they say, you should look for a surplus of love to use to counteract the shortage of love and a shortage of hate to use to counteract the surplus of hate.

What we need is a balance.

But, no matter where you look, or how hard you search, you can't find a shortage of hate to offset a surplus there. You might as well give up. Hate is here to stay.

"Man's inhumanity to man" has engaged the best brains since time immemorial.

This catch phrase is well-known because it is so consistently practiced, "Man's inhumanity to man" is so common it has become an accepted part of our language and thought.

So the alternative is to look for a surplus of love. Fortunately we have at hand right beneath our very noses a vast reservoir of love which could be diverted to more profitable uses.

The vast reservoir of love which at one turn of the switch could be diverted to humanity is that love and affection now lavished upon soulless so-called domesticated beasts such as cats and dogs.

If one-half the attention people waste on their pets were expended on their fellow human beings, what a wonderful world this could be!

You see stories in the paper about children going to school hungry while customers in supermarkets load up their carts with dog and cat food.

Like the lady in the apartment snarled at the elevator operator: "Don't make this thing go so fast, you barbarian, it bothers my Snookums," referring to her dog.

What a pleasant revolution it would be if children showered even half the devotion on their parents that they now expend on their pets, and vice versa.

You might make out a case for the downfall of civilization when it places a higher value on animal life than on human life. Look at India with its sacred cows, Britain with its notorious history of a pet-ridden society and the decline in American prestige while petdom booms.

This could be the root of all our troubles. People are expending their sympathies on creatures barely removed from jungle savagery, and at the same time venting hostility on their fellow human beings.

All it would take to balance the scale would be for humans to treat their brothers as they treat their pets. That would be the day!

One word of advice, Twill: If you want to stay out of jail don't napalm or wound your cat or dog. Hanoi papers please copy.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

TRUMAN TWILL

Purely Personal Observations

I find myself reading about prospects for the 1968 political "superbowl" with the same lack of a thumping heart I felt last year when the Browns met the Rams in the Playoff Bowl. Ug!

It would be better psychology if our peerless leaders did not make chirping sounds about success in Vietnam being around the corner. Some of us can remember when prosperity was around the corner in the Great Depression.

Macy's in New York is pushing a line of blouses with the "cameo look," a frilly modification of the choker collars my mother used to wear with steel stays up the sides to hold them in place.

With Robert McNamara off the Capitol Scene, all of us are entitled to wonder who is going to be the new anchor man for big decisions. Under two administrations, McNamara was the man everybody turned to when the chips were down.

It would not upset me if every self-advertised motorcycle hoodlum with the giveaway trappings were rounded up and given a round-the-world excursion at public expense, one, two, three, four, five times on a slow freighter with leaky boilers, Capt. Bligh on the bridge and a Russian submarine escort.

When I am running over my list of things to worry about, I pause at potentially explosive gasoline and chemical tankers using public highways without special escorts and flat-bed trucks whose loads might break loose and smash me.

My hunch is that brass hats die a thousand deaths whenever the undeclared enemy releases Americans who have been their prisoners. All it would take to set off high-level fireworks would be a statement by one of these heroes casting doubt on our messianic mission in Vietnam.

Felled!

VICTOR RIESEL

Labor's $100 Million Fling

WASHINGTON — High in the skyscraping executive suites, it is difficult for harassed men of industry to catch and understand the refrain sung by distant strikers to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." "Solidarity forever," it goes, to the twang of guitars, "Solidarity forever, for the union makes us strong."

Victor Riesel

It is the battle cry of the "copper" strikers. And how strong they are soon will be noted by the nation as their 26 striking unions are backed by the entire massive AFL-CIO labor federation to the tune of a hundred million dollars and more.

That's right — a hundred million dollars and more. It is a sign of the times. For this strike of copper, lead, zinc, gold, silver arsenic, molybdenum and other "white metal" mines and refineries is the "final conflict," as the union songs have it.

Once and for all, labor, with the National Nonferrous Strike Coordinating Committee out front, is determined to prove that a solid combination of labor can beat a solid phalanx of industry.

It is a fight in which "captains" of a massive industry have been matched since July 15 against the tactical genius of the pithy plumber, George Meany; the laconic man of steel, I. W. Abel; the ebullient fighting Irishman, steel's vice president Joe Molony; the silent man of labor's infrastructure, terse Joe Keenan, of the Electrical Workers brotherhood; and the Communications Workers' Joe (Burning Daylight) Beirne.

THOUGH IT IS a high command of veterans, their younger members (52 per cent of the Communications Workers union are under 30 years of age) will see some mighty flashy strategy.

In one of the most unique moves of modern labor action, the new two-man AFL-CIO Emergency Relief Directorate, Kennan and Beirne, have devised a method which can keep the 47,148 copper strikers out for several years if necessary.

The technique is simple. Each needy striker will be adopted lock, stock and family, by a single local union, state, county and city central labor council or federation.

There are 60,000 local AFL-CIO unions; some 50 state federations, and almost 1,000 city central labor councils, some of which have between 500,000 and a million members.

Of the total strikers, some 25,000 are in need. The rest have other jobs or, as in New York State, get strike unemployment relief. Thus, even if the emergency letters which soon will be rushed to each local by their internationals bring but a 50 per cent return, each needy striking family will be cared for.

This leaves a margin for several small locals with tiny treasuries to pool the adoption costs.

But even this show of "solidarity" will not be as startling as the full scope of the Beirne-Keenan operation. Under this plan, each family will not only be adopted by a local, but will be provided with the equivalent of its pre-strike net income so the striker and his family will not even suffer loss of a dollar from pounding the picket line after the start of this unique mass relief system.

It's daring. It's the most massive demonstration of labor power yet devised — for it is independent (for the moment) of federal aid.

"We are getting the names of the men and women on strike," says Beirne, now in the midst of his own negotiations with the Bell Telephone system. "We will give each name to each local so the union knows who they are supporting and the striker will be aware of the local which is caring for him and his family.

"In this fashion, John Doe, the striker, can go directly to the local which has adopted him and tell its officers of his needs. And we will oversee the vast operation.

"LET'S ASSUME that a striker had been earning $150 a week, and has had to spend it all to keep his family going before the strike. So, let us say, Operating Engineers Local '12345' will give him the $150.

"That's not much for an average local. But if it can only afford to give him $110 weekly, we will go to some big locals, some of which have 40,000 members, and ask them to throw some dollars to Local '12345' so they can supply John Doe with the income he had while working. Or, we can get a few small locals to pitch in for one striker's family."

Thus, if the full pre-strike wages are donated to each of the 25,000 needy families, the total could run to $15 million monthly, while at the most each local would be committing itself to some $7500 a year.

The issue is how long the solid labor movement, the union of unions known as the AFL-CIO, and the vital copper industry can hold out against each other. There is, of course, the government and defense demands, for copper, lead, zinc and other materials. How long will the supplies last? What moves will the government make?

One thing is certain as sunlight: This is the showdown between a coordinated labor movement, mobilized all the way inland from the waterfront, and American industry, now mighty solidly behind the copper companies.

Fulbright Stand

Lots of people who have read the Constitution and are familiar with its provisions must wonder where chairman J. William Fulbright of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee gets the right to call for an examination of "the decision-making process" of the commander of the armed services of the United States.

The Constitution states specifically that the President "shall be commander in chief of the Army and Navy of the United States."

Congress is given the power to declare war. But responsibility for taking this action is its own. Once a resolution authorizing the use of the armed forces has been adopted, the President has full power to conduct the war according to his own best judgment and the advice of the military chiefs.

What is more germane at this time is an inquiry into the right of a congressional committee in the middle of a war to give the impression the President of the United States, as commander in chief, did not know what he was doing when he asked Congress for a resolution that has since been called "the functional equivalent to a declaration of war."

THE SENATE has two committees which deal directly and indirectly with military affairs.

One is the Foreign Relations Committee. The other is the Armed Services Committee.

Usually, all military matters are referred to the Armed Services Committee, of which Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia is chairman. If any question in this field arises, it is this committee which usually looks into the matter. It handles all appropriations in the military category.

The Foreign Relations Committee, on the other hand, is concerned with ratification or rejection of treaties negotiated by the President with foreign governments.

The right of a President to take measures to defend the American people is implied in the Constitution when he is designated as commander in chief of the armed forces.

There are occasions when a chief executive may decide, as President Truman did, that a declaration of war is not necessary. This happened when this country was asked by the United Nations to participate in the collective defense of South Korea.

In the case of the Vietnam War, a resolution was requested by President Johnson immediately after the incidents in the Gulf of Tonkin in August 1964. The President was to be given authority to "take all necessary measures to repel any armed attack against the forces of the United States and to prevent further aggression."

The resolution was adopted a few days later by an almost unanimous vote of both houses of Congress.

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee discussion indicates that some members believe they have the right now to pass judgment upon the "decision-making process," and that it was wrong to take steps to retaliate when American vessels were attacked.

Many military men today, on the other hand, believe that when the United States sent its forces into Southeast Asia to help South Vietnam repel aggression, it was a big mistake not to bomb North Vietnam at once and destroy quickly the supply lines which have been vital to the Communist military operations. The President thought it was not wise to do so. His judgment prevailed.

THE GULF of Tonkin resolution, adopted in August 1964, specifically provides that the authorization may be terminated at any time "by concurrent resolution of the Congress."

No such proposal has emanated from any committee of the House or Senate.

What is really needed is not an examination of "the decision-making process" of the President as commander in chief but an examination of the manner in which congressional committees can interfere with the conduct of a war once Congress has authorized military operations.

The impression being given to adversaries of the United States is that an insurgency has arisen in its own national legislative body and sooner or later the United States will retreat and withdraw from the war.

This encourages Communists not only to continue their aggressions in Vietnam and take over the country, but to plan to apply the same hostile policies later against other free nations in Asia, as well as in Europe.

Clark Clifford On A Hot Seat

Clark M. Clifford, the nation's new secretary of defense is on a hot seat.

Speculation in Washington about Mr. Clifford's role takes two lines.

A dominant feeling in the hotbed of political chatter has it that Mr. Clifford is a caretaker secretary until after the November election.

The other line is that Mr. Clifford's firm position on Vietnam and his personal friendship with President Johnson will keep him in the secretary's job as long as the present administration is in power.

President Johnson feels he is battling enough people over the war without having to knock heads with his defense secretary.

It is known that President Johnson and Robert McNamara did not see eye-to-eye on every aspect of the war.

That will not be the case with the President and Mr. Clifford. President Johnson wanted someone at the top he could count on for full support as future decisions on escalation are made.

The Johnson decisions will not be popular, and the President wants an image of top-level unity as he pursues his reasoning there is no alternative to widening the war.

With the President and the Joint Chiefs of Staff handling Vietnam decisions, Mr. Clifford can turn his attention to other pressing matters in his $76-billion-a-year department.

The Pentagon chief is in charge of 3.4 million military men, and one million civilian employes. He must make vital defense decisions, save money where possible, keep alliances strong and keep lines of communication open to the public, subordinates and the President.

Americans are interested in how Mr. Clifford will go about this immense job. Their future depends on him.

Anyone looking for a change in Vietnam due to Mr. Clifford's appointment can forget it. He got the job because his view coincided with President Johnson's.

About all there is to hope for is that the formula which brought him success in law practice will be applied to areas of military responsibility other than the Vietnam War.

A Graceful Exit

Columbia University has disassociated itself from the Robert L. Strickman cigarette filter.

Controversy has been building over the issue since Columbia praised the Strickman filter as "revolutionary" last July.

Columbia could have had a 51 per cent interest in the device but decided to turn over all rights to the filter to the Strickman Foundation, a charitable foundation organized to advance medical research and education.

While opinions vary about the role Columbia played in the controversial issue and about the university's right to money derived from sale of the filter, there is no argument over the way Columbia severed all ties with the project.

A paragraph from Columbia's statement reads: "The university feels that it owes it to the public to state candidly that it made a well-intentioned mistake in entering a highly controversial and competitive commercial field."

The integrity of Columbia is preserved by the honest manner in which it admitted a mistake was made. A breath of fresh-air honesty is refreshing in an age when many regard the truth as passe.

Hail To The Technicians

The Los Angeles police force has boosted a nationwide break-through of technicians with civilian auxiliaries in traffic control jobs.

Instead of tying down full-fledged policemen to direct traffic, Los Angeles has freed 33 of its 85-member traffic control department for regular police duty and replaced them with civil ians.

The civilians are not required to take a long course of training. They are not paid as much as regular policemen. They wear different uniforms. They are on limited duty, though half a dozen of the original 33 already have shown interest in becoming full-fledged policemen.

Hail to the technicians wherever they bob up!

In some school systems, full-fledged teachers are being replaced by part-time workers who perform the routine chores of the classroom, letting teachers use their training for full-time teaching duty.

In laboratories, technicians routinely perform work that otherwise would have to be done by personnel whose time and training are too valuable to be wasted on tasks that can be performed by assistants.

Modern hospitals couldn't be staffed without a massive influx of aides and technical assistants who supplement the highly trained services of nurses and physicians.

Many cities long have been accustomed to the presence of "meter maids" — women who take charge of watching parking meters, instead of assigning full-duty policemen to this humdrum task.

Higher education acknowledges its debt to teaching assistants — graduate students fully capable of handling classroom chore work not important enough to command the full attention of the regular teaching staff.

The United States has a chronic shortage of highly trained people for key positions in its complex structure. At the same time it has a chronic surplus of people who want to work but are turned away because they lack certain educational credits.

These people are not incapable of working, certainly not incapable of learning. The technical break-through gives them a chance to be useful.

Letter From Max

Dear Truman Twill:

You hear a lot nowadays about love and hate. We have a shortage of the former, a surplus of the latter. In other words, we have too little love, too much hate.

Take a look around. Anywhere you look, you see people hating other people. Everybody hates somebody else.

This is a heck of a way to run a world.

If you want to attack this crisis, as they say, you should look for a surplus of love to use to counteract the shortage of love and a shortage of hate to use to counteract the surplus of hate.

What we need is a balance.

But, no matter where you look, or how hard you search, you can't find a shortage of hate to offset a surplus there. You might as well give up. Hate is here to stay.

"Man's inhumanity to man" has engaged the best brains since time immemorial.

This catch phrase is well-known because it is so consistently practiced, "Man's inhumanity to man" is so common it has become an accepted part of our language and thought.

So the alternative is to look for a surplus of love. Fortunately we have at hand right beneath our very noses a vast reservoir of love which could be diverted to more profitable uses.

The vast reservoir of love which at one turn of the switch could be diverted to humanity is that love and affection now lavished upon soulless so-called domesticated beasts such as cats and dogs.

If one-half the attention people waste on their pets were expended on their fellow human beings, what a wonderful world this could be!

You see stories in the paper about children going to school hungry while customers in supermarkets load up their carts with dog and cat food.

Like the lady in the apartment snarled at the elevator operator: "Don't make this thing go so fast, you barbarian, it bothers my Snookums," referring to her dog.

What a pleasant revolution it would be if children showered even half the devotion on their parents that they now expend on their pets, and vice versa.

You might make out a case for the downfall of civilization when it places a higher value on animal life than on human life. Look at India with its sacred cows, Britain with its notorious history of a pet-ridden society and the decline in American prestige while petdom booms.

This could be the root of all our troubles. People are expending their sympathies on creatures barely removed from jungle savagery, and at the same time venting hostility on their fellow human beings.

All it would take to balance the scale would be for humans to treat their brothers as they treat their pets. That would be the day!

One word of advice, Twill: If you want to stay out of jail don't napalm or wound your cat or dog. Hanoi papers please copy.

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Purely Personal Observations

I find myself reading about prospects for the 1968 political "superbowl" with the same lack of a thumping heart I felt last year when the Browns met the Rams in the Playoff Bowl. Ug!

It would be better psychology if our peerless leaders did not make chirping sounds about success in Vietnam being around the corner. Some of us can remember when prosperity was around the corner in the Great Depression.

Macy's in New York is pushing a line of blouses with the "cameo look," a frilly modification of the choker collars my mother used to wear with steel stays up the sides to hold them in place.

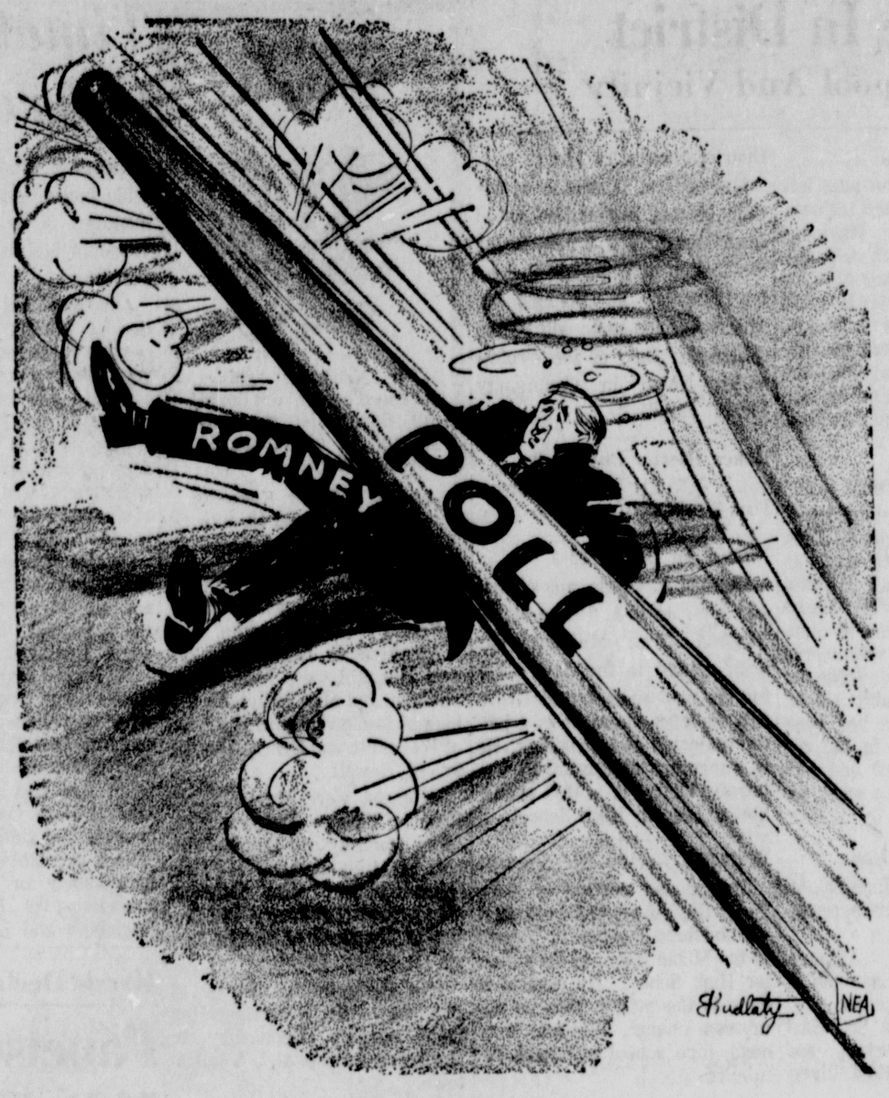
With Robert McNamara off the Capitol Scene, all of us are entitled to wonder who is going to be the new anchor man for big decisions. Under two administrations, McNamara was the man everybody turned to when the chips were down.

It would not upset me if every self-advertised motorcycle hoodlum with the giveaway trappings were rounded up and given a round-the-world excursion at public expense, one, two, three, four, five times on a slow freighter with leaky boilers, Capt. Bligh on the bridge and a Russian submarine escort.

When I am running over my list of things to worry about, I pause at potentially explosive gasoline and chemical tankers using public highways without special escorts and flat-bed trucks whose loads might break loose and smash me.

My hunch is that brass hats die a thousand deaths whenever the undeclared enemy releases Americans who have been their prisoners. All it would take to set off high-level fireworks would be a statement by one of these heroes casting doubt on our messianic mission in Vietnam.

Felled!



VICTOR RIESEL

Labor's $100 Million Fling

WASHINGTON — High in the skyscraping executive suites, it is difficult for harassed men of industry to catch and understand the refrain sung by distant strikers to the tune of "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." "Solidarity forever," it goes, to the twang of guitars, "Solidarity forever, for the union makes us strong."

Victor Riesel

It is the battle cry of the "copper" strikers. And how strong they are soon will be noted by the nation as their 26 striking unions are backed by the entire massive AFL-CIO labor federation to the tune of a hundred million dollars and more.

That's right — a hundred million dollars and more. It is a sign of the times. For this strike of copper, lead, zinc, gold, silver arsenic, molybdenum and other "white metal" mines and refineries is the "final conflict," as the union songs have it.

Once and for all, labor, with the National Nonferrous Strike Coordinating Committee out front, is determined to prove that a solid combination of labor can beat a solid phalanx of industry.

It is a fight in which "captains" of a massive industry have been matched since July 15 against the tactical genius of the pithy plumber, George Meany; the laconic man of steel, I. W. Abel; the ebullient fighting Irishman, steel's vice president Joe Molony; the silent man of labor's infrastructure, terse Joe Keenan, of the Electrical Workers brotherhood; and the Communications Workers' Joe (Burning Daylight) Beirne.

THOUGH IT IS a high command of veterans, their younger members (52 per cent of the Communications Workers union are under 30 years of age) will see some mighty flashy strategy.

In one of the most unique moves of modern labor action, the new two-man AFL-CIO Emergency Relief Directorate, Kennan and Beirne, have devised a method which can keep the 47,148 copper strikers out for several years if necessary.

The technique is simple. Each needy striker will be adopted lock, stock and family, by a single local union, state, county and city central labor council or federation.

There are 60,000 local AFL-CIO unions; some 50 state federations, and almost 1,000 city central labor councils, some of which have between 500,000 and a million members.

Of the total strikers, some 25,000 are in need. The rest have other jobs or, as in New York State, get strike unemployment relief. Thus, even if the emergency letters which soon will be rushed to each local by their internationals bring but a 50 per cent return, each needy striking family will be cared for.

This leaves a margin for several small locals with tiny treasuries to pool the adoption costs.

But even this show of "solidarity" will not be as startling as the full scope of the Beirne-Keenan operation. Under this plan, each family will not only be adopted by a local, but will be provided with the equivalent of its pre-strike net income so the striker and his family will not even suffer loss of a dollar from pounding the picket line after the start of this unique mass relief system.

It's daring. It's the most massive demonstration of labor power yet devised — for it is independent (for the moment) of federal aid.

"We are getting the names of the men and women on strike," says Beirne, now in the midst of his own negotiations with the Bell Telephone system. "We will give each name to each local so the union knows who they are supporting and the striker will be aware of the local which is caring for him and his family.

"In this fashion, John Doe, the striker, can go directly to the local which has adopted him and tell its officers of his needs. And we will oversee the vast operation.

"LET'S ASSUME that a striker had been earning $150 a week, and has had to spend it all to keep his family going before the strike. So, let us say, Operating Engineers Local '12345' will give him the $150.

"That's not much for an average local. But if it can only afford to give him $110 weekly, we will go to some big locals, some of which have 40,000 members, and ask them to throw some dollars to Local '12345' so they can supply John Doe with the income he had while working. Or, we can get a few small locals to pitch in for one striker's family."

Thus, if the full pre-strike wages are donated to each of the 25,000 needy families, the total could run to $15 million monthly, while at the most each local would be committing itself to some $7500 a year.

The issue is how long the solid labor movement, the union of unions known as the AFL-CIO, and the vital copper industry can hold out against each other. There is, of course, the government and defense demands, for copper, lead, zinc and other materials. How long will the supplies last? What moves will the government make?

One thing is certain as sunlight: This is the showdown between a coordinated labor movement, mobilized all the way inland from the waterfront, and American industry, now mighty solidly behind the copper companies.

Church To Open Drive For Funds

The First Methodist Church of Newell will launch a $35,000 building fund campaign March 18.

Increased membership has necessitated an expansion program. The church was established in 1900.

The project will include the installation of new floor covering and heating system; repairing the lead and woodwork of the stained - glass windows; painting the sanctuary; adding four additional classrooms, a church office and a study over the Fellowship Hall, and repair of the front steps, the roof and gutters.

Priority of the items will be determined by the official board upon recommendation of the trustees.

Donald Mills is general chairman for the campaign.

The executive committee, in addition to Mills, includes Mrs. Penny Arnott, secretary; Oral McGown, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Scott, president of the WSCS, and the Rev. Donzel B. Wease, pastor. A special gifts committee is comprised of Mrs. Raymond Lucas and Mrs. Joseph Fuller.

The campaign is under the direction of the Rev. R. Moorman Parker of Charleston, executive secretary of the West Virginia Conference Board of Missions and Church extensions of the Methodist Church.

A MOMENT OF MEDITATION

Marriage For Life

One of the greatest problems that faces men and women today in this great country of ours is the breakdown of home life and the marriage relationship. The marriage relationship had its beginning in the Garden of Eden with the first man and the first woman. Adam and Eve did not design this relationship but it was begun by God. God's plan in the beginning was that there be one husband and one wife. This is still the way that God wants it to be. Under the law of Moses it was permitted that a writing of divorcement be given. However, this is not the way that God wanted it to be. ". . . Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so." Mt.19:8. In Mt.19:9 Jesus explained that under His new law that the only cause for putting away a person's companion was for fornication.

Even a casual look at the record today will reveal that the country in which we live, has been too free in granting the breaking of the marriage relationship. In our country the record will show that about one in every four marriages will end in the divorce courts of the land. This is a very sad condition. It would be well for us to remember that "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." Prov.14:34.

It is time that we take a serious look at ourselves. We need to be asking why. We should be trying to find out why the United States is leading the world in the divorce rates. Certainly we are aware of the fact that we do not have all the answers to all of the problems. Nevertheless, we cannot come up with any answers until we are aware of the seriousness of the problem and then give time and attention to finding some Bible answers to the problems we face.

We live in an age when everyone is in a hurry. Few want to take time to devote it to making the most of family life. Fathers are too busy with their work and Mothers have left the home to get outside jobs to supplement the family income. Children are roaming our streets who need the love and guidance of their parents. Instead of fathers and mothers being drawn closer together, homes are breaking apart.

The answers to these problems will not come overnight but a step in the right direction would be for the family to worship together tomorrow. You are cordially invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ tomorrow. You will be welcome and may find some of the strength you need to face the problems of life.

Mrs. Kathleen Russell and Terri Russell and Jimmy Hunter will present special music at 10:45 a. m.

Paul Wilson will conduct the Sunday School program at 9:45.

Rep. Davis Surveys Industry Area Sites

Homer Paul, Industry Borough Council president, and James McGhee of the Industry Planning Commission met this morning wih Rep. Robert O. Davis of the 13th legislative district, to survey proposed recreation sites in Industry Borough.

Paul said the sites already have been inspected by a recreation planner from Harrisburg.

Hue, Vietnam, is a center of learning, with more than 1,000 university students. Unlike Saigon, where foreigners swarm by the tens of thousands Hue remains almost 100 per cent Vietnamese.

Marriage For Life

One of the greatest problems that faces men and women today in this great country of ours is the breakdown of home life and the marriage relationship. The marriage relationship had its beginning in the Garden of Eden with the first man and the first woman. Adam and Eve did not design this relationship but it was begun by God. God's plan in the beginning was that there be one husband and one wife. This is still the way that God wants it to be. Under the law of Moses it was permitted that a writing of divorcement be given. However, this is not the way that God wanted it to be. ". . . Moses because of the hardness of your hearts suffered you to put away your wives: but from the beginning it was not so." Mt.19:8. In Mt.19:9 Jesus explained that under His new law that the only cause for putting away a person's companion was for fornication.

Even a casual look at the record today will reveal that the country in which we live, has been too free in granting the breaking of the marriage relationship. In our country the record will show that about one in every four marriages will end in the divorce courts of the land. This is a very sad condition. It would be well for us to remember that "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." Prov.14:34.

It is time that we take a serious look at ourselves. We need to be asking why. We should be trying to find out why the United States is leading the world in the divorce rates. Certainly we are aware of the fact that we do not have all the answers to all of the problems. Nevertheless, we cannot come up with any answers until we are aware of the seriousness of the problem and then give time and attention to finding some Bible answers to the problems we face.

We live in an age when everyone is in a hurry. Few want to take time to devote it to making the most of family life. Fathers are too busy with their work and Mothers have left the home to get outside jobs to supplement the family income. Children are roaming our streets who need the love and guidance of their parents. Instead of fathers and mothers being drawn closer together, homes are breaking apart.

The answers to these problems will not come overnight but a step in the right direction would be for the family to worship together tomorrow. You are cordially invited to attend the services of the Church of Christ tomorrow. You will be welcome and may find some of the strength you need to face the problems of life.

When Party's Nominee Is Chosen

All Democratic Strays To Return, LBJ Predicts

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson, winging around the country on what is officially considered a nonpolitical journey, predicts all Democratic strays will return to the fold—and be welcomed—once the party's presidential candidate is chosen.

This, along with a folksy off-the-cuff defense of administration policy on Vietnam, highlighted a Johnson speech at a Friday night testimonial dinner in Beaumont for Rep. Jack Brooks, a fellow Democrat.

The President was to fly to Marietta, Ga., to watch the unveiling of the nation's newest aerial giant—a military transport that is the world's largest in overall size, weight and airlift capacity. Called the C-5A, the jet will roll off the production line of the Lockheed Georgia Co.

"I'm not too concerned about party conflicts," he said at Brooks' testimonial. "Next summer when the national convention chooses its nominee—whoever it is—then I believe all the strays are going to come back to the fold.

"And we're going to welcome them with open arms."

Johnson's flying stops, in keeping with new White House policy, usually were announced one at a time, after his plane was airborne and on its way. The first stop was Houston and the Manned Space Flight Center where he tried to give a boost to space program morale sagging in the face of administration-sponsored budget cuts.

Then, in Beaumont, he visited an old folks home and handed out the first three pensioner checks reflecting bigger benefits voted by Congress last year. His final stop of the day was at the Brooks dinner.

In his space center address, Johnson said: "You will have to go through some heartaches and headaches. There will be little men with poison pens, without vision, who will seek to destroy your great efforts—but they will not prevail."

"We will not surrender our station. We will not abandon our dream. We will never evacuate the frontiers of space to any other nation," he said.

Johnson, who cut next year's budget request for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration from $4.8 billion to $4.3 billion, conceded: "We may have to reduce some of the plans we had, but we will not forget you and we will not stop our work. We will proceed."

He defended the performance of the Saigon government and army. For example, he declared: "Certainly they have corruption... there's somebody stealing something in Beaumont right now."

He said the United States is doing its utmost to improve the ethics and efficiency of South Vetnam but reported that a top advisor cautioned him, "if we push it to the breaking point, we'll wind up with worse than we've got."

Several times Johnson invoked the "might does not make right" motto and declared "right will prevail" in Vietnam.

Again, he asserted his own interest in seeking peace and pictured Hanoi as rejecting every proposal in that direction.

SCIENTIST-philosopher Dr. Jonas Salk, discoverer of polio vaccine, is developing a new concept in research, which he terms "biophilosophy," that could unite science and humanism in the service of mankind. Dr. Salk will be the subject of a March 3 CBS television interview Sunday.

Two New Classes Will Open At Schools Here Next Week

Two federally - financed programs in the city schools — one to improve students' study skills and the other to counsel them in adjustments and self-image improvement — will begin next week, Tony LaNeve, federal program coordinator and East Junior High School principal, said today.

The study skills program has received a grant of $3,300 for educational materials — films, filmstrips and books — while the counseling program will receive $1,500 for salaries of the four teachers, who will work one hour a day each week, plus filmstrips, records, tapes and printed materials. No local funds are needed, LaNeve pointed out.

HE SAID about 100 students will be involved in programs, with many taking part in both projects. The studies are made possible through special subsidies provided by the 107th General Assembly for auxiliary services for "disadvantaged youth."

Students in grades 5 through 9 will be involved "in the improvement of study skills, designed to develop an increase in vocabulary and basic language competence, introduce new concepts in self - study aids and create feelings of success and more positive attitudes."

The counseling project also will concern fifth through ninth-graders.

The four teachers who will serve as counselors, working both at Westgate and East Junior Highs, will work with small groups and individuals to assist students "in making wise choices, adjustments and interpretations; improving self - image and self - direction, correcitng problems and establishing motivated patterns."

LaNeve described the projects as "pilot" programs which will run only until the end of the current school term.

However, he said, "We hope to continue them next fall."

Both programs will be carried out at the two junior high schools here, LaNeve said.

7 Youths Cited For Beer Party At Hancock Site

NEW CUMBERLAND — Seven juveniles, aged 16 and 17, were arrested Friday about 8 p. m. as a result of a beer party on the Lick Run Rd. near Kings Creek.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies, answering a resident's complaint that the road was littered with bottles and cans, arrested the seven juveniles who were having a beer party in and around their cars. Five cars were seized and towed to the sheriff's office.

The juveniles were taken before Justice of the Peace Ray Ewing of New Cumberland and charged with littering the highway and consuming beer in public.

All seven were released to their parents. They are to report before Juvenile Officer John Grossi at a later date.

Osteopathic Hospital Treats Man And Child

A city man injured on a nail at work and a Wellsville child hurt in a fall were treated Friday at Osteopathic Hospital.

William D. Martin of 1694 Idaho Ave., employed by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., suffered a puncture wound of the right foot on the nail and Ricky Schmidt, son of Frank Schmidt of 2107 Nevada St., Wellsville, a contusion of the right elbow in the fall on a sidewalk.

Fire Hits Hospital

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Fire broke out in a cottage at the Columbus State Hospital Friday night but none of the 90 women patients who were evacuated were injured.

60 Are Present At Prayer Event

Sixty attended the Chester World Day of Prayer services Friday night at the First Christian Church under sponsorship of the Chester United Church Women.

The Rev. Randall Prince of the Chester Methodist Church was guest speaker.

A children's service was held in the afternoon.

Post Auxiliary Gives Flag To East Junior

An American flag was presented to East Junior High School Thursday by the Auxiliary of American Legion Post 374.

The ceremony took place in the office of Principal Tony LaNeve.

Participating in the presentation were: Mrs. Julia Baumgard, Auxiliary president, and Mrs. Dorothy Hughes, vice president. Mrs. Hughes appeared on behalf of Mrs. Dorothy Krafft, Americanism chairman, who was unable to attend.

2 Stolen Cars Found By Hancock Deputies

The Hancock County sheriff's office reports two stolen cars recovered Friday.

A 1965 Chevrolet owned by William Long of 1107 White St., Wellsville, reported stolen Feb. 29 from the Waterford Park parking lot, was recovered by Chief Deputy Arnie Durham in Newell. Three wheels on the car were missing.

A 1967 Pontiac convertible was found at the Roadside Park on Route 2. Through a series of checks, it was learned the car had been stolen from Stevens Point, Wis.

Ladybird Sends Thank-You Note To Newell Club

The Newell Junior Women's Club has received a letter of thanks from Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson for its recent gift of a "vigilante" kit which the group is selling in Newell.

Mrs. Charles Arnott, corresponding secretary for the club, said the letter, by Bess Abell, Mrs. Johnson's social secretary, reads:

"Thank you and the members of the Newell Junior Women's Club for your recent letter and the whistle - flashlight - key ring that you sent Mrs. Johnson.

"She is glad to learn of your interest in the war against crime in our communities and wishes to express her admiration to all citizens who give their time and efforts to this cause."

The kits are being sold by the club as a fund project and are designed to summon aid for residents in case of emergency.

Agenda Outlined By School Board

The East Liverpool Board of Education will discuss the regional meeting of the Northeast Ohio School Boards Association to be held in April when it meets Monday night.

Supt. Paul Blair said board members from the region, city officials, teachers and the public will be invited to the session.

The board also will select a speaker for the June commencement exercises.

The resignation of one bus driver is due and the appointment of another will be considered. A teacher resignation at the end of the current term also is expected.

Two requests for students to transfer from the local district to another will receive scrutiny, along with requests from five individuals or organizations for rental of school property.

The meeting will begin at 8.

On Steel Committee

PITTSBURGH — Newton F. Korhumel has become a member of the Finance Committee of the National Steel Corp.'s Board of Directors, President George A. Stinson has announced. Korhumel was elected a director of National Steel in 1964 when National acquired the Korhumel Steel and Aluminum Co. of Evanston, Ill.

2 Motorists Are Cited In Area Wrecks

A New Waterford man has been cited as the result of a two - car mishap near the intersection of Routes 154 and 170 Friday at 6:50 a. m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

Arnold E. Weaver, 29, was charged with "failure to stop within the assured clear distance" after his 1963 sedan rammed the rear of a 1966 coach operated by David E. Burson, 34, of Rogers RD 1.

Burson was halted for a stop sign when the mishap occurred, the patrol reported.

A Lisbon man was cited for "speeding for conditions" and "driving a motor vehicle without an operator's license" after his auto went out of control on a curve and struck a road sign at 4:40 p. m.

Officers said the car operated by Richard L. Thompson, 42, of 441 E. Washington Ave., Lisbon, wrecked on Route 344, some 1½ miles east of Route 558.

Both vehicles were slightly damaged when two trucks collided Thursday at 8 a. m. as the result of slippery pavement.

Officers said the mishap occurred near the intersection of Route 7 and 30 when a tractor-trailer, operated by Ronald E. Amos, 33, of Wooster, halted when it was unable to ascend the slippery roadway, was struck by an approaching tractor - trailer operated by Laverne L. Miller, 55, of Canton.

Pike Appointed Law Librarian

LISBON — Charles A. Pike, Lisbon attorney who left the Columbiana County Election Board Thursday after serving two four - year terms, stepped into a new part - time job Friday.

He is the new law librarian at the Courthouse, succeeding the late Howard M. Cole of Lisbon, who died last Saturday. Mr. Cole was librarian approximately 20 years.

Appointment to the $1,200-a-year post was made by the County Bar Association's law library committee headed by Richard C. Fox of Columbiana.

Pike is serving his third and final two - year term as county Republican chairman and will relinquish the reins to a successor to be elected after the primaries in May.

55 Participate In Newell 'Vigil'

Fifty - five attended a 24-hour prayer vigil held by the Women's Society of the Newell Methodist Church, beginning Friday at 6 a. m.

Mrs. John Addis and Mrs. Ray Scott served as chairmen.

The Rev. Donzel Wease is pastor.

Police Chief Resigns In Follansbee Fight

FOLLANSBEE — Follansbee Chief of Police Sam Davis resigned Friday night during a special meeting of City Council.

Davis charged Mayor Vincent Curtis and several members of Council with actions against his department which, he said, have restricted his powers as outlined in the city charter.

The charges stemmed from refusal of the mayor and councilmen to uphold his suspension and subesquent firing of a patrolman and a meterman "for conduct unbecoming an officer and insubordination."

Presbyterians, Please Note:

WHAT IS THE BIBLE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Bible Presbyterian Church is the continuance of, or the continuing of the True Presbyterian Church, standing for the Word of God and the Testimony of Jesus Christ. We have not, we do not, and we will not accept the Confession of '67, which somewhat is like the liquor traffic in that it has many defenders, but no defense. We teach the Westminster Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechism. We believe in the Trinity and teach that the Bible is the only infallible rule of Faith and Practice.

We worship the Living God, not a dead God, the Virgin born, Crucified, Risen again, the Living Christ.

What, may I ask do you worship as a Presbyterian, though you be a Minister or layman? Is your God a dead God, do you worship a Christ with an earthly father. Do they call those ones in your Church dangerous who preach and teach the Bible in its fullness? It is God's Holy Word. Read II Cor. 6; 14 through 7; 1, II Tim 3; 1 through 4; 8.

"Come Thou with us, and we will do thee good."

Dear Pat...

I know it has been a long time since I've written. As you can imagine, I've been very busy getting settled here. Everyone has been wonderful, and what an experience it is teaching these first grade children! It's a real thrill to watch them as they learn to read. I've already met some wonderful people, both here at school and in church ...

So she writes her letter, and although "it has been a long time . . ." these words will stretch across the miles and the fibres of this friendship will be as strong as ever.

If you were never to write a letter you would lose touch with people who mean a great deal to you. By the same token, if you never were to go to church, you would fail to keep the fabric of your faith woven tight and strong. True, you might still believe firmly in God, but the affirmation and continued growth of this faith requires worship in His presence and in His house.

Thinking about a friend isn't the same thing as writing a letter to him — wanting to be in that person's presence. Believing in God isn't the same as professing that belief by attending church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

"She is glad to learn of your interest in the war against crime in our communities and wishes to express her admiration to all citizens who give their time and efforts to this cause."

The kits are being sold by the club as a fund project and are designed to summon aid for residents in case of emergency.

Agenda Outlined By School Board

The East Liverpool Board of Education will discuss the regional meeting of the Northeast Ohio School Boards Association to be held in April when it meets Monday night.

Supt. Paul Blair said board members from the region, city officials, teachers and the public will be invited to the session.

The board also will select a speaker for the June commencement exercises.

The resignation of one bus driver is due and the appointment of another will be considered. A teacher resignation at the end of the current term also is expected.

Two requests for students to transfer from the local district to another will receive scrutiny, along with requests from five individuals or organizations for rental of school property.

The meeting will begin at 8.

On Steel Committee

PITTSBURGH — Newton F. Korhumel has become a member of the Finance Committee of the National Steel Corp.'s Board of Directors, President George A. Stinson has announced. Korhumel was elected a director of National Steel in 1964 when National acquired the Korhumel Steel and Aluminum Co. of Evanston, Ill.

2 Motorists Are Cited In Area Wrecks

A New Waterford man has been cited as the result of a two - car mishap near the intersection of Routes 154 and 170 Friday at 6:50 a. m., the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon reports.

Arnold E. Weaver, 29, was charged with "failure to stop within the assured clear distance" after his 1963 sedan rammed the rear of a 1966 coach operated by David E. Burson, 34, of Rogers RD 1.

Burson was halted for a stop sign when the mishap occurred, the patrol reported.

A Lisbon man was cited for "speeding for conditions" and "driving a motor vehicle without an operator's license" after his auto went out of control on a curve and struck a road sign at 4:40 p. m.

Officers said the car operated by Richard L. Thompson, 42, of 441 E. Washington Ave., Lisbon, wrecked on Route 344, some 1½ miles east of Route 558.

Both vehicles were slightly damaged when two trucks collided Thursday at 8 a. m. as the result of slippery pavement.

Officers said the mishap occurred near the intersection of Route 7 and 30 when a tractor-trailer, operated by Ronald E. Amos, 33, of Wooster, halted when it was unable to ascend the slippery roadway, was struck by an approaching tractor - trailer operated by Laverne L. Miller, 55, of Canton.

Pike Appointed Law Librarian

LISBON — Charles A. Pike, Lisbon attorney who left the Columbiana County Election Board Thursday after serving two four - year terms, stepped into a new part - time job Friday.

He is the new law librarian at the Courthouse, succeeding the late Howard M. Cole of Lisbon, who died last Saturday. Mr. Cole was librarian approximately 20 years.

Appointment to the $1,200-a-year post was made by the County Bar Association's law library committee headed by Richard C. Fox of Columbiana.

Pike is serving his third and final two - year term as county Republican chairman and will relinquish the reins to a successor to be elected after the primaries in May.

55 Participate In Newell 'Vigil'

Fifty - five attended a 24-hour prayer vigil held by the Women's Society of the Newell Methodist Church, beginning Friday at 6 a. m.

Mrs. John Addis and Mrs. Ray Scott served as chairmen.

The Rev. Donzel Wease is pastor.

Police Chief Resigns In Follansbee Fight

FOLLANSBEE — Follansbee Chief of Police Sam Davis resigned Friday night during a special meeting of City Council.

Davis charged Mayor Vincent Curtis and several members of Council with actions against his department which, he said, have restricted his powers as outlined in the city charter.

The charges stemmed from refusal of the mayor and councilmen to uphold his suspension and subesquent firing of a patrolman and a meterman "for conduct unbecoming an officer and insubordination."

Presbyterians, Please Note:

WHAT IS THE BIBLE PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

The Bible Presbyterian Church is the continuance of, or the continuing of the True Presbyterian Church, standing for the Word of God and the Testimony of Jesus Christ. We have not, we do not, and we will not accept the Confession of '67, which somewhat is like the liquor traffic in that it has many defenders, but no defense. We teach the Westminster Confession of Faith and the Larger and Shorter Catechism. We believe in the Trinity and teach that the Bible is the only infallible rule of Faith and Practice.

We worship the Living God, not a dead God, the Virgin born, Crucified, Risen again, the Living Christ.

What, may I ask do you worship as a Presbyterian, though you be a Minister or layman? Is your God a dead God, do you worship a Christ with an earthly father. Do they call those ones in your Church dangerous who preach and teach the Bible in its fullness? It is God's Holy Word. Read II Cor. 6; 14 through 7; 1, II Tim 3; 1 through 4; 8.

"Come Thou with us, and we will do thee good."

Dear Pat...

I know it has been a long time since I've written. As you can imagine, I've been very busy getting settled here. Everyone has been wonderful, and what an experience it is teaching these first grade children! It's a real thrill to watch them as they learn to read. I've already met some wonderful people, both here at school and in church...

So she writes her letter, and although "it has been a long time..." these words will stretch across the miles and the fibres of this friendship will be as strong as ever.

If you were never to write a letter you would lose touch with people who mean a great deal to you. By the same token, if you never were to go to church, you would fail to keep the fabric of your faith woven tight and strong. True, you might still believe firmly in God, but the affirmation and continued growth of this faith requires worship in His presence and in His house.

Thinking about a friend isn't the same thing as writing a letter to him — wanting to be in that person's presence. Believing in God isn't the same as professing that belief by attending church regularly.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
. . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Memoir Of An Aged Child

Ex-City Resident Writes Impressionist Book Based In Part On Early Childhood Days Here

By ROBERT POPP

Fragmented memories of childhood, some of it spent in East Liverpool, form the bricks and mortar for an oddly - constructed short novel called "Memoir of an Aged Child," by Alfred Duhrssen.

Duhrssen was born in East Liverpool, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Duhrssen, and the family resided here for some years while the father was president of the Commercial Decal Co.

Some early memories of the family home on Park Blvd. near Park Way have been woven into the book, particularly in the initial chapters, the most outstanding an incident in which the author tumbled into a swimming pool and nearly was drowned.

The younger Duhrssen holds degrees from Yale University, the Sorbonne and the University of Chicago. He has taught philosophy at the University of Chicago and the University of Iowa, and once worked as a staff writer for Fortune magazine. He now lives in Paris and Majorca, and is at work on a second novel.

Duhrssen's father, who since has disposed of his interest in Commercial Decal, resides in New York state. Friends from his days as an East Liverpool resident 30 years or more ago remember him as "excellent company, intelligent and convivial," and recall his prowess as an amateur sailor, a hobby that found its way into his son's book.

LOCAL FRIENDS distinguish between the father and son by referring to the elder Duhrssen as "Alf" and the son as "Young Alf." The father has continued to visit here periodically in recent years, but memories of his son's visits end when the boy was in his mid - teens.

A photo on the dust jacket of "Memoir of an Aged Child" shows the author as an intent intellectual type with long hair and a sparse beard and mustache setting off a pair of questioning eyes and Nordic profile.

Family friends here say the incident of the tumble into the swimming ppol and some of the other early childhood memories are laid in and around the home on Park Blvd. now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William F. Porter. the thorns prick my hands and legs, and the gate is held fast

Duhrssen relates how he fell into the pool while chasing a cat named Tomkin.

"There is a creosote - stained brown fence, covered with brier roses, surrounding the swimming pool, and through it Tomkin runs without hurting himself," he writes. "But by a chain and lock; for once, in late autumn, chasing Tomkin along the water's edge, I fell in fully-dressed in my sailor suit and reefer and sank down among the black leaves that remain all winter long stuck to the bottom of the pool."

TORTURED punctuation and the tendency to string a series of sentences together with a collection of conjunctions are among the lesser pitfalls for the reader attempting to make some sort of sense out of Duhrssen's rambling, disjointed and disoriented recitation.

The confusticated narrative jumps suddenly and without explanation from a scene on a beach, for instance, to a boarding school, and then to some other unlikely spot such as a Pullman car or a chalet in the Swiss Alps. The literal - minded reader is left with a series of out - of - focus images of nameless people doing things that for the most part are incomprehensible or mad.

Parts of the story make sense, of course, but they appear to bear no relationship to any of the other parts. It's as though some disoriented teacher had scrambled together the pieces of seven jigsaw puzzles and then asked a struggling student to fit the mass into one comprehensible rectangle.

Some of the intellectual - type reviewers professed to see an overall pattern in the work — and said so in print.

NEW YORKER magazine, for instance, calls the book "a short first - person account of an unsensational childhood, boyhood and early adulthood, given entirely from the point of view of the child, whose natural lack of a proper sense of time and perspective, of the colors, shapes, sizes and eccentricities of houses and other people, is exaggerated and prolonged by the disjointed life he leads. . . . ."

The reviewer adds: "Mr. Duhrssen simply presents some of the emotions and sensations that the outlook entails, indicating beautifully how freakish and suggestive it can be, and how the proper sense of time and perspective that one ordinarily develops to deal with strangeness and surprises both deprives and protects."

The dust jacket blurb quotes another author as commenting: "Rooted in actuality, this is a story which verges on the mythical at many points and achieves, within the limits of simplicity, a very devastating, weird complexity about which one may think a great deal."

Many East Liverpool residents will find the book worthwhile reading, if for no other reason than the local references.

Those who knew the Duhrssens in their East Liverpool days probably will find more vignettes that they can pinpoint in time and space, because the book itself seems to be almost entirely divorced from these two conventional criteria.

Summing up, it will strike many as a boundless mass of childhood blah — an undefined and undefinable nothingness that strives to be something.

The 184-page volume is published at $4.95 by Holt, Rinehart and Winston, Inc., of New York City. Copies are available at the Carnegie Public Library.

Dental Appointment

The dentist is a friend of mine;
His character's extremely fine.
We've relations on the highest plane - -
Excepting when it comes to pain.

Even in his waiting room,
I feel the threat of coming doom;
A pitiful group of craven creatures.
Are we who sit with frozen features.

But once inside, I cower there,
A panic grip upon the chair,
With pores full open, I perspire,
Taut and tense as piano wire . . .

He displays his tools with fiendish glee

Then a la the Marquis de Sade,
He gives my cringing tooth a prod.

He asks me things I cannot tell . . .
With him inside, I don't speak well . . .

Fifteen minutes - - then sweet release - -
My heart is calm, my soul's at peace;
With contempt I gaze at those who wait

The Younger Set

The "blah" time of late winter has arrived with all its unpredictable climate control that puts a damper on the spirit of things. Students in area high schools are hanging loose and enjoying a rest from the "frantic" of the past couple months.

A TEMPORARY OVERTHROW — At East Liverpool High School, seniors have been mumbling about an overthrow of the government. Rumor says it will be Wednesday when "Youth in Government" day will be observed. (Pretty sneaky to use that day as a front!) The program, which is sponsored by the JayCees, will find teachers and high school administrators "out" — replaced by power-hungry seniors! Local government hasn't got a chance either. Seniors participate in governing the city and county offices. Though the group will have an excellent opportunity to attempt running the town for a day, chances are it'll return the reins of power gladly — relieved to get back to humdrum student life! . . . OH YOU KID! — The Keramos Echo, school newspaper, has a section which has become very popular with the seniors. "Senior Superlatives," as the column is known, features pictures of the group as it was years ago — in grade school. (Buck teeth, freckles, glasses and all!) More than one senior has heard "My, how you've changed — thank goodness!"

A TRYING SITUATION — Seniors at Southern Local will try out for their play during the week of March 11. Sock it to 'em! . . . THE GALS TAKE OVER — A "big girls" basketball game is being planned by the seniors and juniors. Jay Clapsaddle, seniors' coach, is assisted by Dennis McElroy, Jan Needham and Tim Wood. (Seems there are more coaches than there are players!) Coach Clapsaddle said he thinks the gals have it all wrapped up. Rich Rose and Bob Smith, coaches for the junior team, think Clapsaddle may have underestimated the junior gals. . . . FTA ON THE MOVE — The Future Teachers plan to visit Mount Union College soon. The group also plans to attend a FTA workshop April 6 at Kent State University. . . . STUDENTS DRAWN AND "QUARTERED" — The Faculty really cleaned up during the recent student-faculty game. Where all the energy came from is a mystery to everybody!

YALE VS. PRINCETON — Move over, fellas, the girls are taking over the realm of basketball too. South Side females are eagerly anticipating the annual Yale vs. Princeton game. The game, with officials, scoreboard and the works, will be played by the freshmen and seniors (Yale) in blue and white and the juniors and sophs (Princeton) in black and orange. It sounds like it'll be worth paying to see the feminine cagers at work. . . . SHADES OF THE "GURU" — From the sound of mumbled incantations in the halls, it seems as if the Beatles' Indian mystic has been at work! It started as a battle between the juniors and seniors. The juniors chanted "We are great; we are fine. We're the class of '69." The seniors, not to be put down easily, retaliated with "We've got soul; we create. We're the class of '68." Then, far in the distance could be heard hesitant voices which recited "We are great; we're true blue. We're the class of '72." Talk about class. . . . WELL, HOW ABOUT A DONKEY IN TENNIES? — There's an air of tension as folks await the donkey basketball game Friday when agile adults will "ride 'em, cowboy" and play basketball. Sure hope the donkeys are house — er, "court-broken!"

A TALL TALE — The Wellsville High seniors have just about recovered from senior play try-outs. The play, "A Tall Story," will be directed by Joseph Caporosi. The production is the story of a basketball player- . . . "ON YOUR TOES!" — Everyone is alert to the fact that the National Honor Society will induct new members soon. The ceremony, complete with lighted tapers, is very impressive. . . . MEMORIES ARE MADE OF THIS — Seniors must've caught the "blahs" from the weather! They're kind of downhearted and quiet after ordering their announcements, name cards and memory books (as if anyone could forget graduation!) Boy, if something doesn't happen soon to take away the hangdog looks they'll have everybody feeling rotten!

SOMETHING NEW—A significant change had been made in the attire for Western Beaver High's graduation this year. Previously, both guys and gals wore the same type blue and gray caps and gowns. This year the girls will be dressed in white! Now anyone will be able to tell the difference between the graduates, no matter what hairstyle is worn! The group was recently measured for the "grad" rags . . . TV PERSONALITIES—Ron Carroll, senior, and Joseph Hornick and Shelly Paul, juniors, will 'star' on Channel 11's "Battle of Wits" in March . . . ENCORE, ENCORE!—The talent show received an outstanding attendance last night. Wonder what tonight's performance will bring? . . . LATINS PERFORM "WATER JUG" DANCE—At the recent Latin Club banquet, a few talented souls exhibited their genius in the "water Jug" dance. Members were attired in Roman garb-including the ever-popular toga. Highlight of the evening was the fight of the gladiators. . .

Student Who's Who

Work in the secretarial line is the aim of Linda Bergman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bergman of West Point. She gets plenty of practice, for she serves as secretary of the Y-Teens, a group she represented at Otterbein College last June.

She is also a member of the Future Secretaries, Future Teachers, GAA, Coed Hi-Y Club and the Masquers, the school theater group.

Linda, who has been a cheerleader for four years, spent August 1967 at a cheerleader's camp in Kentucky. She must have plenty of "pep," because she is also president of the Pep Club!

As a sidelight, she works on the advertising staff of the yearbook, L'Anne.

Mrs. Gloria Crouse of 915 May St. sends in a delicious hearty recipe that will make a hit for any family on a cold winter day.

Barbecued Franks and Limas
1 pound dry baby lima beans
6 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
1 pound frankfurters
½ cup onion
2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1-3 cup molasses
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon salt

Wash beans and place in a four-quart saucepan with water and salt. Cover, bring to a boil and boil two minutes. Remove from heat and let stand one hour, covered. Bring to a boil again, reduce heat, and simmer until tender, 45-60 minutes. Drain.

Cut four frankfurters into crosswise slices, and make diagonal cuts in the other six. Combine sliced franks, beans and rest of ingredients in two-quart baking dish. Place other frankfurthers on top and bake for 30-40 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves six.

Mrs. Harold Gallimore of Smithfield St., submits this delicious dessert recipe which can be made a day ahead for party entertaining.

Pineapple Fruit Basket
1 small angel food cake
6 eggs
1 cup white sugar
1 large can crushed pineapple
1 pkg. pineapple gelatin

Beat egg yolks until yellow, add ⅓ of the sugar. Put in a double boiler with undrained pineapple. Cook until the mixture coats a spoon, about 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. When thick, take off heat and add the dry gelatin and stir until well dissolved.

Beat egg whites until stiff, and add the remainder of the sugar. Fold the pineapple - custard mixture into the egg whites.

Break the angel food cake into bite pieces (may not require the entire cake) and spread on the bottom of a 9 x12 dish. Pour the mixture over and blend by pushing the cake around until well covered.

Let stand at least 12 hours in refrigerator and serve with whipped cream or dream whip. Cuts 12 servings.

BARBS

We have a good tip for our barber: Don't raise those prices again, unless you want to see a grown man wearing a bun.

The fellow who is always too busy to lend a hand almost always has time to borrow a buck.

Geometry, 100-proof: A straight line is the shortest distance between two pints.

This year, St. Paddy's Day falls on Sunday, and it will be easy to spot those who are not Irish at heart. They'll be the ones who fail to find an excuse for being absent on Monday.

OH YOU KID! — The Keramos Echo, school newspaper, has a section which has become very popular with the seniors. "Senior Superlatives," as the column is known, features pictures of the group as it was years ago — in grade school. (Buck teeth, freckles, glasses and all!) More than one senior has heard "My, how you've changed — thank goodness!"

A TRYING SITUATION — Seniors at Southern Local will try out for their play during the week of March 11. Sock it to 'em! . . . THE GALS TAKE OVER — A "big girls" basketball game is being planned by the seniors and juniors. Jay Clapsaddle, seniors' coach, is assisted by Dennis McElroy, Jan Needham and Tim Wood. (Seems there are more coaches than there are players!) Coach Clapsaddle said he thinks the gals have it all wrapped up. Rich Rose and Bob Smith, coaches for the junior team, think Clapsaddle may have underestimated the junior gals. . . . FTA ON THE MOVE — The Future Teachers plan to visit Mount Union College soon. The group also plans to attend a FTA workshop April 6 at Kent State University. . . . STUDENTS DRAWN AND "QUARTERED" — The Faculty really cleaned up during the recent student-faculty game. Where all the energy came from is a mystery to everybody!

YALE VS. PRINCETON — Move over, fellas, the girls are taking over the realm of basketball too. South Side females are eagerly anticipating the annual Yale vs. Princeton game. The game, with officials, scoreboard and the works, will be played by the freshmen and seniors (Yale) in blue and white and the juniors and sophs (Princeton) in black and orange. It sounds like it'll be worth paying to see the feminine cagers at work. . . . SHADES OF THE "GURU" — From the sound of mumbled incantations in the halls, it seems as if the Beatles' Indian mystic has been at work! It started as a battle between the juniors and seniors. The juniors chanted "We are great; we are fine. We're the class of '69." The seniors, not to be put down easily, retaliated with "We've got soul; we create. We're the class of '68." Then, far in the distance could be heard hesitant voices which recited "We are great; we're true blue. We're the class of '72." Talk about class. . . . WELL, HOW ABOUT A DONKEY IN TENNIES? — There's an air of tension as folks await the donkey basketball game Friday when agile adults will "ride 'em, cowboy" and play basketball. Sure hope the donkeys are house — er, "court-broken!"

A TALL TALE — The Wellsville High seniors have just about recovered from senior play try-outs. The play, "A Tall Story," will be directed by Joseph Caporosi. The production is the story of a basketball player- . . . "ON YOUR TOES!" — Everyone is alert to the fact that the National Honor Society will induct new members soon. The ceremony, complete with lighted tapers, is very impressive. . . . MEMORIES ARE MADE OF THIS — Seniors must've caught the "blahs" from the weather! They're kind of downhearted and quiet after ordering their announcements, name cards and memory books (as if anyone could forget graduation!) Boy, if something doesn't happen soon to take away the hangdog looks they'll have everybody feeling rotten!

SOMETHING NEW—A significant change had been made in the attire for Western Beaver High's graduation this year. Previously, both guys and gals wore the same type blue and gray caps and gowns. This year the girls will be dressed in white! Now anyone will be able to tell the difference between the graduates, no matter what hairstyle is worn! The group was recently measured for the "grad" rags . . . TV PERSONALITIES—Ron Carroll, senior, and Joseph Hornick and Shelly Paul, juniors, will 'star' on Channel 11's "Battle of Wits" in March . . . ENCORE, ENCORE!—The talent show received an outstanding attendance last night. Wonder what tonight's performance will bring? . . . LATINS PERFORM "WATER JUG" DANCE—At the recent Latin Club banquet, a few talented souls exhibited their genius in the "water Jug" dance. Members were attired in Roman garb-including the ever-popular toga. Highlight of the evening was the fight of the gladiators. . .

Student Who's Who

Work in the secretarial line is the aim of Linda Bergman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bergman of West Point. She gets plenty of practice, for she serves as secretary of the Y-Teens, a group she represented at Otterbein College last June.

She is also a member of the Future Secretaries, Future Teachers, GAA, Coed Hi-Y Club and the Masquers, the school theater group.

Linda, who has been a cheerleader for four years, spent August 1967 at a cheerleader's camp in Kentucky. She must have plenty of "pep," because she is also president of the Pep Club!

As a sidelight, she works on the advertising staff of the yearbook, L'Anne.

FOOD FAVORITES

Mrs. Gloria Crouse of 915 May St. sends in a delicious hearty recipe that will make a hit for any family on a cold winter day.

Barbecued Franks and Limas
1 pound dry baby lima beans
6 cups water
2 teaspoons salt
1 pound frankfurters
½ cup onion
2 teaspoon dry mustard
1 tablespoon vinegar
1-3 cup molasses
2 cans (8 ounces each) tomato sauce
½ teaspoon salt

Wash beans and place in a four-quart saucepan with water and salt. Cover, bring to a boil and boil two minutes. Remove from heat and let stand one hour, covered. Bring to a boil again, reduce heat, and simmer until tender, 45-60 minutes. Drain.

Cut four frankfurters into crosswise slices, and make diagonal cuts in the other six. Combine sliced franks, beans and rest of ingredients in two-quart baking dish. Place other frankfurthers on top and bake for 30-40 minutes at 350 degrees. Serves six.

Mrs. Harold Gallimore of Smithfield St., submits this delicious dessert recipe which can be made a day ahead for party entertaining.

Pineapple Fruit Basket
1 small angel food cake
6 eggs
1 cup white sugar
1 large can crushed pineapple
1 pkg. pineapple gelatin

Beat egg yolks until yellow, add ½ of the sugar. Put in a double boiler with undrained pineapple. Cook until the mixture coats a spoon, about 45 minutes, stirring occasionally. When thick, take off heat and add the dry gelatin and stir until well dissolved.

Beat egg whites until stiff, and add the remainder of the sugar. Fold the pineapple - custard mixture into the egg whites.

Break the angel food cake into bite pieces (may not require the entire cake) and spread on the bottom of a 9 x12 dish. Pour the mixture over and blend by pushing the cake around until well covered.

Let stand at least 12 hours in refrigerator and serve with whipped cream or dream whip. Cuts 12 servings.

BARBS

We have a good tip for our barber: Don't raise those prices again, unless you want to see a grown man wearing a bun.

The fellow who is always too busy to lend a hand almost always has time to borrow a buck.

Geometry, 100-proof: A straight line is the shortest distance between two pints.

This year, St. Paddy's Day falls on Sunday, and it will be easy to spot those who are not Irish at heart. They'll be the ones who fail to find an excuse for being absent on Monday.

WHAT IS THE BEST WAY to get an answer? Go directly to the top source of information.

This is the best advice I can offer to several persons who have been quizzing me the past two or three weeks concerning Highlandtown Lake. I related here Jan. 27 the Ohio Division of Wildlife at Columbus plans to officially open the new impoundment July 20.

Certain restrictions have been placed on the lake by the Wildlife Council. One is that all bass and muskie caught by fishermen are to be released for a period of one year. You have to throw them back regardless of size.

Since this announcement, I have been contacted numerous times by fishermen who want to know why the state would even bother to open the lake if the plans are to hold fishing to such tight restrictions. Most feel that the lake should be completely closed to all fishing until it can be opened in a "proper manner."

At the time I asked Dan Armbruster, chief of the Division of Wildlife at Columbus, the reason for the action. My feeling was — and still is — the lake should be "off limits" until September at the earliest. Next year would be even better.

DAN SAYS THE pressure was on to open the lake. Who was applying the pressure? Good question. I am not sure, although it was indicated the fishermen and sportsmen of the area wanted the lake opened.

If you feel differently — and there are several who have voiced this opinion to me — the best thing to do is write to Dan. Explain to him your thinking on the lake, and ask your questions. Just address your letters to him in care of the Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin Rd., Columbus, Ohio, 43212.

AS SPORTSMEN who purchase hunting and fishing licenses, you have a right to offer an opinion. The problem is that many of you are reluctant to speak up. Write letters now and then to the game officials. Attend public hearings on laws and proposed changes.

When enough sportsmen raise up on their hind legs and start howling loud enough, state officials perk up their ears and start listening. Don't forget, the biggest source of revenue for the Division of Wildlife is from the sale of licenses. It is your money, and if you don't like the way it is spent, don't complain to me or to each other, complain to the ones at the top.

I for one believe the "non-spending public," the ones who do not buy licenses, have too long enjoyed the benefits of the sportsmen's money. I say so each chance I get.

JUST IN CASE you are interested, Columbiana County is located in District III of the wildlife division. The headquarters is in Akron. Jesse Weaver is the district supervisor and can be reached by calling or writing the headquarters.

Fred Morr is the director for the entire Department of Natural Resources, which includes parks and recreations as well as wildlife. You can write to him at Columbus, in care of the department. Of course there is always the very top Gov. James H. Rhodes.

And the state representative from the county is Clarence Wetzel. Write to him in care of his home at Lisbon RD 3 or at his office in Columbus.

The county game warden is Ralph Drake of 436 W. Maple St., Lisbon.

Save these for future reference.

NO ACTION YET. The gates on the dam at Guilford Lake were closed Friday to begin raising the lake back to summer level. And still nothing done about the lake itself.

It was indicated that the state would begin repairing the breast of the dam in January, but Nelson Hively, Guilford Lake State Park manager, says he has not heard anything since the directive last fall.

There also had been some indication that measures might be taken to improve fishing in the lake. The state says stocking programs are not the answer and there was talk of draining the lake down to kill off the carp and bluegills which "pollute" the water.

But, nothing has been done. Even the Guilford Lake Civic Association is bginning to ask questions.

TROUT DERBY. Another trout derby will be held this spring at Beaver Creek State Park.

The derby May 18 will be similar to the first one conducted last year. Let's hope it is better than the one last year. Most of the fish were so "sick" when dumped into the creek they failed to provide much action.

The trout were hauled to Beaver Creek in a tank truck. The weather was hot and the water in the truck got too warm. Trout cannot live in warm water. They were placed in the creek and survived, but were in no mood to bite the same day.

Several trout were caught in the creek along the park section last fall.

The state plans to conduct several such derbies over the state. One even will be held in Jefferson County.

ICE FISHING still is good on Lake Erie. There is about 15 inches reported in the Put-In-Bay area around the Bass Islands off Catawba Point. Guides say nice catches of perch are being taken daily.

The ice still is on Guilford Lake, Zeppernick Lake and Ruff Pond, but now one has been fishing them. One fisherman has caught several crappies and a bass fishing through the ice on a small private pond.

ARCHERS DEMOLISHED all existing deer harvest records for Pennsylvania during the 1967-68 license year, according to figures released this week by the Game Commission.

The count of big game kill report cards returned to the Game Commission showed that 3,251 archers took whitetails during the regular and extended archery seasons.

The total for the year is an all-time record, and shows the remarkable growth of the sport in recent years. In 1964 bowmen reported taking 1,600 deer; in 1965 the figure rose to 2,119; and one year ago the total reached 2,337.

Reports filed by successful archers showed that an even 1,200 antlered deer were tagged, including 731 with three or more points and 469 spike bucks. The antlerless deer harvest of 2,051 included 1,574 does and 477 males. All of these figures are new records. Overall, slightly more males than females were taken.

Potter County, the leader in all big game harvest categories in 1967, also led all other counties in reported archery success. Bowmen there tagged 405 whitetails, another record. In second place in total harvest was Forest County with 215, followed by Clinton County with 142.

Resident archers reported taking 2,675 deer, and nonresidents bagged 576 whitetails, also new records.

SPRING TURKEY HUNT. Permits are still available for Buckeye hunters who want to participate in Ohio's third wild turkey season May 8 through 11. Once again, the Division of Wildlife will issue 500 free permits as determined by a public drawing to be held at Division Headquarters on Thursday, April 4, at 10 a.m.

Interested hunters should send their name, address, county of residence and 1967 Ohio hunting license number to: Turkey Hunt, Ohio Division of Wildlife, 1500 Dublin Road, Columbus, Ohio 43212. Applications will be accepted through April 1.

Persons submitting more than one application will be disqualified. As it was last year, each of the successful applicants will be permitted to bring one companion.

OUTDOOR TIP. An ironing board makes an excellent bench rest for sighting in a rifle. Place a small sand bag on the board to rest the forearm on and steady the rifle. An ironing board is easily carried since it's collapsible.

The Lighter Side

By ROBERT POPP

J. Harried Striver, a cub reporter for the Washington Evening Star, happened to be the third passenger aboard the elevator carrying President Johnson and Defense Secretary Robert McNamara when it became stuck between floors at the Pentagon the other afternoon.

He sold his exclusive copyrighted story to the Breeder's Gazette, but segments have been released for use in less widely-circulated publications.

"The elevator had risen just beyond the third level when it stopped suddenly, throwing the President against McNamara," Striver wrote. " 'Wait a minute, Lyndon, I'm going quietly'," McNamara said. " 'You have my resignation in the pocket — I can't back out now.' "

"The elevator eased downard a few inches and stopped again. The president, obviously irritated, shouted at McNamara: 'Who's in charge of this thing, Lou Harris? Why are we dropping again?' "

" 'It appears we have achieved an unconditional halt'," McNamara replied. "Perhaps we should have some meaningful talks with the maintenance crew.' " He grabbed the emergency telephone built into the wall, waited a moment for an answer and then shouted: 'Tell the joint chiefs of staff the President and I have declared a pause in our travel,' he told the unseen party on the other end. After listening a moment, he shouted: 'Don't talk to me about reserve; that word's out'." And he slammed the receiver onto the hook.

"THEN McNAMARA suggested that someone give him a leg up while he opened the emergency trapdoor in the top of the elevator.

The President demurred, but McNamara replied that the Eau de Pedernales that the President had smeared on his hair was simply overpowering in the confined space. Johnson formed a stirrup with his hands, allowing McNamara to step up to manipulate the catch on the door.

"Look for George Romney while you're up there," Johnson said to McNamara. "He seems to have dropped out of sight in the last few days. But if he says anything about brainwashing, slam the door. Let him tell his troubles to Barry Goldwater.

McNamara dropped back to the elevator floor, reporting no sign of Romney, but adding: "I thought I saw a fellow waving a Confederate flag and wearing a George Wallace button in his lapel. But maybe it was only an optical illusion. It wouldn't be the first time I was wrong."

"I think I preferred Henry Wallace," Johnson replied. "When he made a speech, no one could understand him. It's a lot less trouble that way." As he looked toward the elevator ceiling again, the face of a wily Oriental appeared in the opening. The man grinned and gestured.

"Don't tell me they have infiltrated the Pentagon elevator shaft!" the President explained. "And I laughed at poor Ellsworth Bunker and his plight at the Embassy in Saigon. But whoever you are, come let us reason together," he said, gesturing toward the face at the ceiling opening.

"That's just Charlie Chang, my personal laundryman," McNamara replied. "His family came from Way, Hue back — I mean they came from Hue, away back. He's a naturalized citizen. He gets the starch in my collars just right, but the cuffs are too stiff. Take a little off the cuffs next week, Charlie. I won't be here — the laundry will be at my home in Georgetown.

"WHEN YOU leave the Pentagon, can I trade in that Edsel station wagon?" Charlie asked. "I have a chance to sell it to an antique dealer over in Chevy Chase." McNamara immediately approved the trade-in of the Edsel and added: "Drop over to the World Bank if you need a little extra for the down payment on a new panel truck. . . ." Still grinning, Charlie disappeared.

"It's about time we corrected out mobility gap," McNamara said to the President. "You're the commander-in-chief. If you give the right command, I'm sure you can get this thing moving again."

Pointing a stiff forefinger at the control panel, Johnson said brusquely: "Escalate!" The elevator moved swiftly, silently, and stopped at the fourth floor, but the doors did not open.

"Now say the right word again," McNamara suggested.

Placing his palm across his forehead in the manner of Dunninger about to read the number engraved inside somebody's pocketwatch, the President gave the incantation:

"Cordell Hull, Henry Morgenthau, Henry Stimson, Frank Knox, James Forrestal, Francis Biddle, Tom Clark, Claude Wickard, Clinton Anderson, Jim Farley, Harold Ickes, Francis Perkins. . . . ."

The door flew open briskly. As Johnson prepared to step out of the elevator toward a crowd of waiting reporters and officials, he turned to McNamara and whispered:

"It's still true. If you mention the right name, any door in Washington will open to you. . . . ."

Stamps In The News

This year is the 20th anniversary of Israel's independence and it will be a big one for collectors of Israeli stamps. Seven new sets ranging from an Independence Day commemorative to the honoring of the Boy Scouts will be issued during the first nine months of 1968, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency.

The first set on the agenda is Part I of a new airmail definitive series. Part II will be issued one month later. Products of Israel will be depicted on each stamp. The first stamp will show a diamond and the remainder will illustrate textiles, arts and crafts and Israeli stamps.

Other stamps announced are: commemorative for the Pre - Olympic Football (Soccer) Tournament — this one features stylized flags from various nations in the form of a soccer ball, 20th Anniversary of Independence, Memorial Day, 25th Anniversary of the Ghetto Uprising, Fallen Freedom Fighters, 27th Zionist Congress and commemorative honoring 50th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement.

HERE IN THE United States a new 6-cent stamp will be issued sometime this year with the theme "Support Our Youth." Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien said the stamp would be a commemorative in recognition of the program for young Americans sponsored by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The date and place of issuance have not as yet been announced.

Chances are the issuance will coincide with Elks National Youth Week which is May 1 through May 7 at which time the organization will start a massive job hunt in 2,100 communities to uncover summertime employment opportunities for young people.

THE NEW 8-CENT airmail post card released March 1 in New York was issued as a single card only. It will not be issued in reply - paid (double) form.

Other reports from the U.S. Post Office Department have announced special slogan cancellations from various cities in the country. Holland, Mich., will have a slogan "Holland, Mich., Tulip Festival Time Every Year in May." Granby, Mass., cites "Granby, Mass., Bicentennial 1768-1968." Jersey City, N. J., has no local celebration but reminds "Build Your Future Wisely-Safely U.S. Savings Bonds." Santa Barbara, Calif., will utilize a special slogan die for "Centennial University of California 1868 - 1968."

WHEN THE U.S. Post Office Department received its order from Congress to raise the rates for postage, it also was handed a new authority which may have far - reaching effects. The Post Office now can curb promoters of business directories who send out letters that look like bills for legitimate services or goods. This mail is often mistaken by busy business offices to be valid bills which must be paid. Under the new authority, such mailers will be required to print prominently on the envelope such language which makes it clear that it is a solicitation to advertise in their "directories" and not a bill for services or goods.

You And The Law

Susie was doing the ironing when she heard the front door of the apartment creak open. Knowing that her husband was not due home for two hours and that the door had been locked, she was frightened.

Hot iron in hand, Susie stood beside the door as she heard the footsteps of someone headed for the kitchen. The kitchen door opened — and in stepped Mr. Jones the landlord.

"Mr. Jones! What's the meaning of this?" Susie shrieked, still holding the hot iron aloft.

"JUST CHECKING the property, Susie. I have the right of inspection, you know," he replied, taking a step back into the hallway, out of reach of the iron.

"Get out of here! You can't just barge in on me like this. You have no right to make an inspection like this. You didn't even ring the bell," Susie replied loudly.

Is Susie correct. Can she make Mr. Jones leave, even though he is the landlord?

Yes. A tenant has the sole and exclusive right to the occupation and control of his apartment or house during the existence of his term. Therefore, as a general rule, a landlord has no right to enter the apartment without the tenant's consent, unless he has reserved this right in the lease. Mr. Jones' entry would be considered unauthorized entry and would be a trespass just as would such an entry by a stranger.

MANY LEASE agreements permit the right of inspection at a certain interval or on a certain day. Some courts have held that without such an agreement, the landlord cannot enter the premises to make alterations, improvements, to investigate the need of repairs or make repairs.

So long as Susie and her husband live up to the lease agreement, Mr. Jones must stay out unless invited in. If the property is damaged Mr. Jones may sue for recovery on any repairs. Otherwise, Mr. Jones had better see his lawyer if he wants to see the property before the next tenant moves in.

McNamara dropped back to the elevator floor, reporting no sign of Romney, but adding: "I thought I saw a fellow waving a Confederate flag and wearing a George Wallace button in his lapel. But maybe it was only an optical illusion. It wouldn't be the first time I was wrong."

"I think I preferred Henry Wallace," Johnson replied. "When he made a speech, no one could understand him. It's a lot less trouble that way." As he looked toward the elevator ceiling again, the face of a wily Oriental appeared in the opening. The man grinned and gestured.

"Don't tell me they have infiltrated the Pentagon elevator shaft!" the President explained. "And I laughed at poor Ellsworth Bunker and his plight at the Embassy in Saigon. But whoever you are, come let us reason together," he said, gesturing toward the face at the ceiling opening.

"That's just Charlie Chang, my personal laundryman," McNamara replied. "His family came from Way, Hue back — I mean they came from Hue, away back. He's a naturalized citizen. He gets the starch in my collars just right, but the cuffs are too stiff. Take a little off the cuffs next week, Charlie. I won't be here — the laundry will be at my home in Georgetown.

"WHEN YOU leave the Pentagon, can I trade in that Edsel station wagon?" Charlie asked. "I have a chance to sell it to an antique dealer over in Chevy Chase." McNamara immediately approved the trade-in of the Edsel and added: "Drop over to the World Bank if you need a little extra for the down payment on a new panel truck. . . ." Still grinning, Charlie disappeared.

"It's about time we corrected out mobility gap," McNamara said to the President. "You're the commander-in-chief. If you give the right command, I'm sure you can get this thing moving again."

Pointing a stiff forefinger at the control panel, Johnson said brusquely: "Escalate!" The elevator moved swiftly, silently, and stopped at the fourth floor, but the doors did not open.

"Now say the right word again," McNamara suggested.

Placing his palm across his forehead in the manner of Dunninger about to read the number engraved inside somebody's pocketwatch, the President gave the incantation:

"Cordell Hull, Henry Morgenthau, Henry Stimson, Frank Knox, James Forrestal, Francis Biddle, Tom Clark, Claude Wickard, Clinton Anderson, Jim Farley, Harold Ickes, Francis Perkins. . . . "

The door flew open briskly. As Johnson prepared to step out of the elevator toward a crowd of waiting reporters and officials, he turned to McNamara and whispered:

"It's still true. If you mention the right name, any door in Washington will open to you. . . . "

Stamps In The News

This year is the 20th anniversary of Israel's independence and it will be a big one for collectors of Israeli stamps. Seven new sets ranging from an Independence Day commemorative to the honoring of the Boy Scouts will be issued during the first nine months of 1968, reports the Israel Philatelic Agency.

The first set on the agenda is Part I of a new airmail definitive series. Part II will be issued one month later. Products of Israel will be depicted on each stamp. The first stamp will show a diamond and the remainder will illustrate textiles, arts and crafts and Israeli stamps.

Other stamps announced are: commemorative for the Pre - Olympic Football (Soccer) Tournament — this one features stylized flags from various nations in the form of a soccer ball, 20th Anniversary of Independence, Memorial Day, 25th Anniversary of the Ghetto Uprising, Fallen Freedom Fighters, 27th Zionist Congress and commemorative honoring 50th anniversary of the Boy Scout movement.

HERE IN THE United States a new 6-cent stamp will be issued sometime this year with the theme "Support Our Youth." Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien said the stamp would be a commemorative in recognition of the program for young Americans sponsored by the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks. The date and place of issuance have not as yet been announced.

Chances are the issuance will coincide with Elks National Youth Week which is May 1 through May 7 at which time the organization will start a massive job hunt in 2,100 communities to uncover summertime employment opportunities for young people.

THE NEW 8-CENT airmail post card released March 1 in New York was issued as a single card only. It will not be issued in reply - paid (double) form.

Other reports from the U.S. Post Office Department have announced special slogan cancellations from various cities in the country. Holland, Mich., will have a slogan "Holland, Mich., Tulip Festival Time Every Year in May." Granby, Mass., cites "Granby, Mass., Bicentennial 1768-1968." Jersey City, N. J., has no local celebration but reminds "Build Your Future Wisely-Safely U.S. Savings Bonds." Santa Barbara, Calif., will utilize a special slogan die for "Centennial University of California 1868 - 1968."

WHEN THE U.S. Post Office Department received its order from Congress to raise the rates for postage, it also was handed a new authority which may have far - reaching effects. The Post Office now can curb promoters of business directories who send out letters that look like bills for legitimate services or goods. This mail is often mistaken by busy business offices to be valid bills which must be paid. Under the new authority, such mailers will be required to print prominently on the envelope such language which makes it clear that it is a solicitation to advertise in their "directories" and not a bill for services or goods.

You And The Law

Susie was doing the ironing when she heard the front door of the apartment creak open. Knowing that her husband was not due home for two hours and that the door had been locked, she was frightened.

Hot iron in hand, Susie stood beside the door as she heard the footsteps of someone headed for the kitchen. The kitchen door opened — and in stepped Mr. Jones the landlord.

"Mr. Jones! What's the meaning of this?" Susie shrieked, still holding the hot iron aloft.

"JUST CHECKING the property, Susie. I have the right of inspection, you know," he replied, taking a step back into the hallway, out of reach of the iron.

"Get out of here! You can't just barge in on me like this. You have no right to make an inspection like this. You didn't even ring the bell," Susie replied loudly.

Is Susie correct. Can she make Mr. Jones leave, even though he is the landlord?

Yes. A tenant has the sole and exclusive right to the occupation and control of his apartment or house during the existence of his term. Therefore, as a general rule, a landlord has no right to enter the apartment without the tenant's consent, unless he has reserved this right in the lease. Mr. Jones' entry would be considered unauthorized entry and would be a trespass just as would such an entry by a stranger.

MANY LEASE agreements permit the right of inspection at a certain interval or on a certain day. Some courts have held that without such an agreement, the landlord cannot enter the premises to make alterations, improvements, to investigate the need of repairs or make repairs.

So long as Susie and her husband live up to the lease agreement, Mr. Jones must stay out unless invited in. If the property is damaged Mr. Jones may sue for recovery on any repairs. Otherwise, Mr. Jones had better see his lawyer if he wants to see the property before the next tenant moves in.

Total Of $76,900 Shown In City Building Permits

Eleven persons obtained city building permits during February for new construction and remodeling projects estimated to cost a total of $76,900.

Last month's total is off $134,500 from the $211,400 in January. The January total was swelled by a single $200,000 permit for erection of a new Post Office building at Dresden Ave. and Smith St.

The largest February permit went to the William H. Vodrey Trust, which will erect a $35,000 building at 212 E. 5th St. as the new home of the district Social Security office.

Two persons also obtained permits for new homes. Larry Finlay was authorized to erect a house at 710 Sophia St. at an estimated cost of $12,000. He also obtained a permit to place new siding on a two-story home at 709 Sophia St. at a cost of $1,200.

Richard E. Spahr obtained a permit to build a two - story frame dwelling at 781 Ohio Ave. at an estimated cost of $12,000. At the same time, he obtained a permit to build a two - unit apartment over a garage at the rear of 781 Ohio Ave. The cost was set at $10,000.

Other permits issued in February, the persons who obtained them, the work authorized and the estimated cost:

Mark S. Sanford, to remodel the kitchen of a home at 280 Canton St., $1,000.

Adkins Lumber Co., to install new siding and new windows in a home at 1205 Jennings Ave., $1,500.

R. J. McGrew, to build a two-car garage at 302 W. 8th St., $1,500.

Thelma Kinsey, to repair the roof on a building at 1755 Dresden Ave., $500.

Bertha M. Deshler, to repair a dwelling at 122 W. 3rd St., $1,000.

Grace Baptist Temple, to remodel the basement of a church building at 738 Bradshaw Ave., $400.

Gertrude Henderson obtained a permit to tear down the front of an old store building at 114 Ravine St.

Motorists Reminded On Auto Registration

HARRISBURG (AP) — Motor vehicle owners have less than one month to return their applications for 1968 registration stickers.

The Revenue Department said Friday that lesss than half the 4.5 million registrants of automobiles, motorcycles and tractors have sent in their applications. The deadline is March 31.

To facilitate processing of applications, the department said, the Harrisburg office will be open from 8 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. on Saturdays, March 16, 23 and 30.

The first Encyclopaedia Britannica, published 200 years ago, recommended cold baths for curing "melancholia, madness and the bites of mad dogs."

Bounty Hunters Have Field Day In Quest Of Fox

LISBON — The $1,200 which Columbiana County commissioners allocate annually for a $3 fox bounty would not last the year if every month were like February.

Bounty hunters collected $162, depositing in the sheriff's office at the Courthouse 54 sets of feet and ears — required proof of kill. Nineteen sets were received in January.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said 70 prisoners were received at the jail last month in addition to the 42 confined as of Feb. 1.

Seventy-four prisoners were released during February, six were conveyed to state institutions and a mental patient was taken to a state hospital.

Jail cooks served 3,433 meals at a cost of $1,411.47, making the average daily food cost $1.23 per prisoner, the sheriff said. There were 234 visitors at the jail.

The sheriff said his staff collected $661 in fees, served 374 papers and handled 5,075 radio transmissions and 1,417 telephone calls at the jail.

"The colony of Virginia," said the first Encyclopaedia Britannica in 1768, "may be extended as far westward as we think fit."

32 At East Junior Inducted Into Society, Given Awards

Two East Liverpool High School seniors challenged students at East Junior High School" to perform to the best of their ability" Friday as 20 there were inducted into the National Honor Society and 12 more received honor award certificates.

Miss Alexandra Cycyn and Miss Bridget Tobin, officers of the high school society, discussed high school activities during yesterday's program. Miss Cycyn is a former member of the society at East Junior.

Nine ninth-graders are are Jim Chan, Steve Frederick, Nancy Johnson, Marilyn Myler, Ralph Seevers, Michelle Short, Penny Starkey, Barbara Thayer and Myra Williams. All but Chan and Miss Thayer are second - year members of the organization.

Students who have accumulated a 3.25 average in their four major subjects are eligible for membership after completion of the first semester of eighth year. They also "must maintain a satisfactory rating in citizenship and be engaged in some type of acceptable school activity" at the time of initiation. Each student yesterday received a certificate and candle which was lighted from the "candle of knowledge."

—:—

BRIEF TALKS were given by the following second - year members of the society: "Scholarship," Penny Starkey; "Leadership," Ralph Seevers; "Service," Marilyn Myler, and "Character," Myra Williams.

Honor certificates, which are presented at the end of each semester to students who have attained three "A"s and one "B" or better, were given: Seventh grade, Rudy Frank Michael McKinney, Barbara Parks, Ann Stalev, Janet Thayer and Corrine Wright; eighth grade, Ron Moidel, and ninth grade, Steve Frederick, Marilyn Myler, Ralph Seevers, Michelle Short and Barbara Thayer.

Musical accompaniment throughout the program was presented by Jeryl Kidder and Cheryl Carter.

Tony LaNeve, principal, was assisted in the ceremony by Mrs. Gyla Nicely, faculty member.

Total Of $76,900 Shown In City Building Permits

Eleven persons obtained city building permits during February for new construction and remodeling projects estimated to cost a total of $76,900.

Last month's total is off $134,500 from the $211,400 in January. The January total was swelled by a single $200,000 permit for erection of a new Post Office building at Dresden Ave. and Smith St.

The largest February permit went to the William H. Vodrey Trust, which will erect a $35,000 building at 212 E. 5th St. as the new home of the district Social Security office.

Two persons also obtained permits for new homes. Larry Finlay was authorized to erect a house at 710 Sophia St. at an estimated cost of $12,000. He also obtained a permit to place new siding on a two-story home at 709 Sophia St. at a cost of $1,200.

Richard E. Spahr obtained a permit to build a two - story frame dwelling at 781 Ohio Ave. at an estimated cost of $12,000. At the same time, he obtained a permit to build a two - unit apartment over a garage at the rear of 781 Ohio Ave. The cost was set at $10,000.

Other permits issued in February, the persons who obtained them, the work authorized and the estimated cost:

Mark S. Sanford, to remodel the kitchen of a home at 280 Canton St., $1,000.

Adkins Lumber Co., to install new siding and new windows in a home at 1205 Jennings Ave., $1,500.

R. J. McGrew, to build a two-car garage at 302 W. 8th St., $1,500.

Thelma Kinsey, to repair the roof on a building at 1755 Dresden Ave., $500.

Bertha M. Deshler, to repair a dwelling at 122 W. 3rd St., $1,800.

Grace Baptist Temple, to remodel the basement of a church building at 738 Bradshaw Ave., $400.

Gertrude Henderson obtained a permit to tear down the front of an old store building at 114 Ravine St.

Motorists Reminded On Auto Registration

HARRISBURG (AP) — Motor vehicle owners have less than one month to return their applications for 1968 registration stickers.

The Revenue Department said Friday that lesss than half the 4.5 million registrants of automobiles, motorcycles and tractors have sent in their applications. The deadline is March 31.

To facilitate processing of applications, the department said, the Harrisburg office will be open from 8 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. on Saturdays, March 16, 23 and 30.

The first Encyclopaedia Britannica, published 200 years ago, recommended cold baths for curing "melancholia, madness and the bites of mad dogs."

Bounty Hunters Have Field Day In Quest Of Fox

LISBON — The $1,200 which Columbiana County commissioners allocate annually for a $3 fox bounty would not last the year if every month were like February.

Bounty hunters collected $162, depositing in the sheriff's office at the Courthouse 54 sets of feet and ears — required proof of kill. Nineteen sets were received in January.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said 70 prisoners were received at the jail last month in addition to the 42 confined as of Feb. 1.

Seventy-four prisoners were released during February, six were conveyed to state institutions and a mental patient was taken to a state hospital.

Jail cooks served 3,433 meals at a cost of $1,411.47, making the average daily food cost $1.23 per prisoner, the sheriff said. There were 234 visitors at the jail.

The sheriff said his staff collected $661 in fees, served 374 papers and handled 5,075 radio transmissions and 1,417 telephone calls at the jail.

"The colony of Virginia," said the first Encyclopaedia Britannica in 1768, "may be extended as far westward as we think fit."

32 At East Junior Inducted Into Society, Given Awards

Two East Liverpool High School seniors challenged students at East Junior High School" to perform to the best of their ability" Friday as 20 there were inducted into the National Honor Society and 12 more received honor award certificates.

Miss Alexandra Cycyn and Miss Bridget Tobin, officers of the high school society, discussed high school activities during yesterday's program. Miss Cycyn is a former member of the society at East Junior.

Nine ninth - graders are are Jim Chan, Steve Frederick, Nancy Johnson, Marilyn Myler, Ralph Seevers, Michelle Short, Penny Starkey, Barbara Thayer and Myra Williams. All but Chan and Miss Thayer are second - year members of the organization.

Students who have accumulated a 3.25 average in their four major subjects are eligible for membership after completion of the first semester of eighth year. They also "must maintain a satisfactory rating in citizenship and be engaged in some type of acceptable school activity" at the time of initiation. Each student yesterday received a certificate and candle which was lighted from the "candle of knowledge."

—:—

BRIEF TALKS were given by the following second - year members of the society: "Scholarship," Penny Starkey; "Leadership," Ralph Seevers; "Service," Marilyn Myler, and "Character," Myra Williams.

Honor certificates, which are presented at the end of each semester to students who have attained three "A"s and one "B" or better, were given: Seventh grade, Rudy Frank Michael McKinney, Barbara Parks, Ann Staley, Janet Thayer and Corrine Wright; eighth grade, Ron Moidel, and ninth grade, Steve Frederick, Marilyn Myler, Ralph Seevers, Michelle Short and Barbara Thayer.

Musical accompaniment throughout the program was presented by Jeryl Kidder and Cheryl Carter.

Tony LaNeve, principal, was assisted in the ceremony by Mrs. Gyla Nicely, faculty member.

Football Film Seen By Club

A football film, "All American 1967," was screened during the Lions Club luncheon Friday at the Travelers Hotel.

Charles Haugh, president, reminded members of minstrel practice Monday at 7:30 p. m. at the Salvation Army building. Fred Yonz, chairman, pointed out there are only four practice sessions remaining.

Haugh announced that a board meeting will follow Monday's rehearsal.

A letter from the Junior Women's Club expressed thanks for the club's contribution toward the purchase of the venereal disease film.

James Sigler, program chairman, said a film on the 1967 Master's Golf championship will be screened during next week's meeting.

Sebring Couple Bound To Jury In Burglary Case

LISBON — A Sebring couple has been bound over to the Columbiana County grand jury on a charge of burglary Feb. 15 at the residence of Russell Reichenbach in North Georgetown. He is county dog warden.

The defendants are Mark F. Heverly, 22, and Gloria E. Hughes, 19, apprehended Feb. 16 by Stark County sheriff's deputies who found a revolver and collection of old coins in their possession. Reichenbach identified the items as his.

Heverly pleaded not guilty Friday in county Northwest Court at Salem and waived a preliminary hearing. Judge Edward Greenamyer set bond at $1,000 and Heverly was returned to the County Jail in lieu of bond.

Miss Hughes was bound over earlier on a plea of not guilty. She was released under $1,000 bond.

New Philadelphia, Dover Papers Merge

DOVER, Ohio (AP)—Merger of the Dover Daily Reporter and the New Philadelphia Daily Times was announced today with H.R. Horvitz named publisher and Joseph E. Hurst associate publisher.

The merged newspapers will be called The Times-Reporter and will be printed in the Dover plant with offices for editorial, advertising and circulation personnel in both buildings. The Times building and equipment were included in the merger. Financial arrangements were not disclosed.

Horvitz published the Dover Reporter and Hurst the New Philadelphia Times. Horvitz also publishes the Mansfield News Journal, The Lorain Journal and the Willoughby News-Herald, all in Ohio.

Election Board Organizes

Carl L. Stacey, left, Columbiana Democrat, again was named chairman of the Columbiana County Election Board during the biennial organization meeting Friday afternoon, which also marked the start of a four-year term for Ford McQuilkin, right, Homeworth Republican.

Miss Rebecca Resnick, East Liverpool Republican, was renamed director of elections and Mrs. Hillis Conner of East Liverpool, Democrat, was returned as deputy director.

Yesterday marked the beginning of the four-year terms on the board to which Stacey and McQuilkin were appointed by Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, Ohio's chief election officer. Stacey has served on the board for many years. McQuilkin was appointed to succeed Charles A. Pike, Lisbon Republican. Both were named on recommendation from their county party committees.

Don R. Gosney of Columbiana, Democrat, and G. William Brokaw of East Liverpool, Republican, are the holdover members of the four-man board. Brokaw was unable to attend the organization meeting because he was at Columbus on a legal case.

The Election Board also agreed it will set up the customary branch registration offices in East Liverpool the last three days before the March 27 deadline for city voters to enroll for the May primaries. The branch registration offices, supplementing the enrollments at the office on W. 6th St., will operate March 25-27, inclusive.

The neighborhood registration spots have been operated for years just prior to the registration deadline to allow voters an opportunity to qualify without the necessity for a trip to the downtown office.

Fairfield-Waterford Names Spellers For District Event

COLUMBIANA — The Fairfield - Waterford Local School District held spelling bees Friday to determine its representatives for the district spelldown March 15.

Ten F-W students will compete against a like number from Beaver Local in the Grades 5-6 division in the morning. Ten each from F-W and Beaver Local will line up in the grades 7-8 contest in the afternoon.

Houston's 'Big E' Voted Player Of Year

Alcindor 2nd, Maravich Rates 3rd

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Elvin Hayes, once cut from his high school varsity team because he had a "coordination problem" is the college basketball player of the year for 1968.

Hayes, the 6-8 top scorer and rebounder for the No. 1 ranked University of Houston Cougars, won the player of the year award Friday. The two-time All-American senior polled 222½ votes to 41½ for Lew Alcindor, the 7-1½ UCLA star, in an Associated Press poll of 322 sports writers and broadcasters. One voter had the two tied.

Alcindor, who was player of the year last year as a sophomore, was 18 points ahead of Pete Maravach of Louisiana State, the nation's leading scorer, in the voting.

Hayes, nicknamed the "Big E", said being named player of the year "is a great honor."

Hayes, 22, a Rayville, La., native, is considered a top prospect for professional basketball, a desire he has had since childhood.

He says he wants to be recognized as a good basketball player and also as a good person.

"You can be a good ballplayer but if you don't treat people right you're nothing," he said.

He gained national prominence with his 39 points when the Cougars snapped UCLA's 47 game winning streak in January Astrodome before more than 50,600 spectators and another 12 million watching on television.

He scored 62 points Feb. 24 in leading Houston to a 158-81 victory over Valparaiso. It was the third highest game score for one team in major college records.

In leading the unbeaten Cougars through 26 games this season he has became the second highest career scorer in college basketball with more than 2,600 points. But he is never completely satisfied.

"I am going to push myself to the limit," he said. "I will never stop working to reach the top."

Melvin Rogers, basketball coach at Eula Britton High School at Rayville, a town of 6,000 in the cotton country of northeast Louisiana, was the one who cut Hayes from the varsity his second year.

"He was a gangling kid, all hands and feet," Rogers recalled. "He had a coordination problem so I suggested he work out with the junior varsity until he improved."

Rogers said Hayes worked hard and it paid off. Britton was runner-up in the state tournament Hays' junior year and won the championship his senior year.

Thirty-three colleges tried to recruit him.

Peggy's Due For Another Skate Title

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Barring an attack of locusts or something equally unforeseen, Peggy Fleming will win her third straight world figure skating title today.

The 19-year-old Olympic champion from Colorado Springs, Colo., is so far ahead of the competition with only today's free-skating competition remaining that the title is virtually hers.

Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., did not fare so well in his bid for the men's title. Despite a valiant attempt in the free skating, Wood lost narrowly to Emmerich Danzer of Austria, the defending champion.

Danzer finished with 12 ordinals and 2,195.2 points to Woods' 15 ordinals and 2.189.9 points. Wood, trying to make up a deficit, attempted some daring leaps in his free skating, but one slip kept him from the necessary points.

"I think I was good enough to win despite the slip," Wood said afterwards. "I skated my full program and made no other mistakes."

Miss Fleming was near perfect in completing the compulsory figures Friday and each of the judges rated her first. She had 1,209.7 points to runner-up Gaby Seifert's 1134.8 points. The East German girl in turn led Beatrix Schuba of Austria with 1119.1 points.

New Mexico Gains Berth In NCAA

By The Associated Press

The New Mexico Lobos, picked to finish last, have climaxed one of their most successful seasons in college basketball by winning the Western Athletic Conference and an automatic berth in the NCAA national championship tourney.

The Lobos, seventh-ranked in The Associated Press poll, took the WAC title by erasing a 14-point deficit and beating Wyoming 75-62 on the road Friday night while visiting Arizona upset Utah 89-79.

UCLA, No. 2 in the AP poll, clinched a tie for the Pacific-8 Conference title by walloping Stanford 100-62 in Los Angeles as Southern California was upset at home by California 91-90 in overtime.

Columbia and Santa Clara also assured themselves of at least a tie for the title in the Ivy League and West Coast Athletic Conference, respectively. Columbia, nationally sixth-ranked, made it 16 in a row by whipping Penn 59-43 at Philadelphia. Santa Clara, playing at home, downed St. Mary's 72-56.

Iowa State stayed alive in the torrid Big Eight race and virtually eliminated Nebraska by beating the Cornhuskers 93-92 on the road in overtime. Steve Cooper's shot from the corner in the last five seconds won for Iowa State.

A 10-foot jumper by Russ Critchfield with 10 seconds left in the extra period gave California its upset over Southern Cal.

Towering 7-1½ Lew Alcindor threw in 31 points for UCLA as the Bruins crushed Stanford. Behind 13-12, the Bruins hit on 21 of their next 22 shots and easily won their 57th game in 58 starts.

A 25-footer by Ron Becker gave New Mexico the lead over Wyoming for the first time at 56-54 midway of the second half and the Lobos pulled away. Ron Nelson was high for New Mexico with 29 points.

Jim McMillian paced Columbia over Penn with 27 points.

Davidson and West Virginia won the semifinals in the Southern Conference championship tourney at Charlotte. Davidson downed Furman 79-63 and West Virginia routed Richmond 102-81.

LaSalle and Temple scored in the semifinals of the Middle Atlantic Conference playoffs at Philadelphia. LaSalle trounced American University 84-57 and Temple walloped St. Joseph 94-65.

Miami, Fla. upset Florida State, bound for the NCAA, 96-84, but New Mexico State, another NCAA at-large entry, trimmed Hardin-Simmons 73-60.

Weber State failed to sew up the Big Sky Conference, losing to Montana State 70-63.

In other games Arizona State downed Brigham Young 99-97, Texas A&M tripped Southern Methodist 85-80, Princeton clobbered Cornell 89-52, Yale beat Dartmouth 98-68, Oregon State edged Washington 74-72, Oregon defeated Washington State 81-73, Brown conquered Harvard 66-60 and Colorado State U. scored over the Air Force 83-62.

Griffith-Benvenuti Bout Rates 'Some Preliminary'

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With most of the fans buzzing over the Joe Frazier-Buster Mathis heavyweight fight, the middleweight title scrap between champion Emile Griffith and Nino Benvenuti on the same card Monday night has almost been relegated to the preliminary class.

"Some preliminary," Howie Albert, co-manager of Griffith said today. "For the kind of money Emile is getting it could be the most expensive preliminary in history."

Griffith is getting $175,000 and Benvenuti $80,000 for their third middleweight title fight in Madison Square Garden. It will be followed by the battle of the unbeatens for New York, Massachusetts, Maine and Illinois recognition as world heavyweight champion. Both fights are scheduled for 15 rounds.

Frazier's purse is $175,000 and Mathis' $75,000 for a total of $505,000 for the four featured fighters in the first fight show in the new Madison Square Garden.

Garden officials wanted to open with a spectacular show and they've got one in the title doubleheader.

They charged from $10 to $100 in an attempt to cover the financial cut. The lower-priced seats went fast, but there has been resistance to the $75 and $100 tickets. Plenty of them are available, said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing.

Markson said he expected a crowd of 17,500 to pay upwards of $500,000. Markson usually is conservative in his estimates. Previously, he had mentioned $600,000 to $700,000 and that would not be too far off.

The receipts to the promotion will be boosted considerably by the closed circuit telecast by TNT Communications, Inc., to theaters and arenas in more than 70 cities. There also will be telecasts to Canada, Mexico, Italy and Puerto Rico.

Frazier and Griffith, sharing the same quarters at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., have been very impressive in their workouts while Mathis and Benvenuti have been only fair at best.

Workouts are not always the best way of evaluating a fight's outcome, but Frazier and Griffith have held firmly as the betting favorites. Frazier is the 2-1 choice while Griffith is 7-5 over Benvenuti.

Benvenuti, 29, has a 73-2 record and 30 knockouts. Griffith's record is 54-8 and 20 knockouts. Frazier, 24, has a 19-0 record, including 17 knockouts. Mathis, 23, has a 23-0 record, with 17 knockouts.

Ladies Steal Spotlight At K Of C Meet

CLEVELAND (AP)—It was ladies night at the 28th Knights of Columbus Track Meet Friday, except for a shot at the world's indoor pole vault record.

Jon Vaughn of UCLA tried the bar three times at 17-5 and missed, then went once more for the crowd and missed that, too.

Dave Patrick of Villanova helped keep the men in the spotlight with his 2:08.8 in the 1,000-yard run, but the big ovation went to Madeline Manning and Eleanor Montgomery.

Both are Cleveland girls attending Tennessee State University and the crowd roared its approval when Madeline nipped 16-year-old Nancy Shafer of the Canton Track Club to win the 800 in 2:17.5.

Miss Manning holds the world's record at that distance. She came back in the 400 with a 55.9, a meet record.

Miss Montgomery, who set the American high jump record with a 5-10½ leap last week, easily won the event in 5-10¾, outdistancing Russia's Antonia Okorokova at 5-8.

Five members of the Soviet Union's track and field team were in the meet and they won two events—Tatyana Talisheva in the women's 50-yard dash (6.0) and high jumper Valentine Gavrilov (7.0).

Vaughn won the pole vault at 17-0, beating Bob Seagren, who went out at 16-6.

Martin McGrady won his 18th straight 600 race with a 1:10 effort to set a meet record and Kent State miler Sam Bair in 4:05.9.

Gibson To Speak At Lisbon High All-Sports Fete

Davidson, WVU To Clash For NCAA Berth Tonight

By KEN ALYTA

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — Davidson and West Virginia, two streaking basketball teams whose last defeats were administered by each other, meet tonight at 8 (EST) in the championship game of the Southern Conference Tournament.

Davidson made it 11 straight by flogging Furman 79-63 and West Virginia ran its string to eight with a 102-81 trouncing of Richmond in Friday night's semifinals.

The winner goes on to play St. John's of New York next Saturday afternoon in an opening round game of the NCAA Eastern Regional at College Park, Md.

Top-seeded Davidson is favored to dethrone second - seeded West Virginia and regain the title it won by beating the Mountaineers in the finals two years ago.

Should Davidson falter and lose the NCAA spot, there's a possibility that the wildcats would get a bid to the National Invitation Tournament at New York. They have an overall 21-4 record against West Virginia's 19-7.

Davidson hasn't lost a game since it blew a 17 - point lead at West Virginia and lost in overtime 89-86 seven weeks ago. West Virginia hasn't been beaten since losing their return game at Charlotte a month ago, 91-77.

Both finalists demonstrated rebounding strength and balanced scoring before a crowd of 8,887 Friday night.

Davidson led all the way against Furman, shooting 54.5 per cent and collecting 40 rebounds while placing five scorers in double figures.

Davidson's starting lineup is composed of sophomores and juniors, West Virginia starts three seniors, one sophomore and one junior.

West Virginia coach Bucky Walters paid tribute ot Davidson as a team possessed of "great talent, the advantage of playing at Charlotte and good coaching," but he said firmly, "We believe we can win. No one gives us much of a chance, but we believe in our boys. Like our state, we're proud but small."

He promised "a few interesting adjustments" for the Wildcats.

His Mountaineers raced to a 12-0 lead, only to have Richmond scramble back to a 54-all tie early in the second half before the Mountaineers again regained control.

Walters called it "one of our better efforts." He conceded, "We weren't pretty doing it, but we never are."

Dave Reaser and Bob Hummel scored 19 points each to pace the Mountaineers but it was the all-around floor play of Ron Williams which proved the difference.

Williams scored 17 points but was credited with 14 assists only one shy of his Southern Conference record.

Another Dies Of Heart Attack

Player And Fan Stabbed After High School Game

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A high school basketball player and a fan were stabbed Friday night, and another fan suffered a fatal heart attack as fighting broke out after a tense tournament game.

Four policemen also were injured in the melee on the floor of the University of Dayton Fieldhouse after the Dayton Dunbar-Beaver Creek game.

Beaver Creek won 74-73 to advance to the sectional Class AA tournament.

Beaver Creek is a predominantly white school, Dunbar mostly Negro.

The stabbing victims were identified as Tim Swain, a Beaver Creek player, and Robert Brookauer, a fan of the team. Both were taken to Miami Valley Hospital.

James S. Rollins, grandfather of a Beaver Creek cheerleader, collapsed and died of a heart attack as the fans clashed on the floor.

The policemen injured included Sgt. Bill Faulkner, 32, and patrolmen T. L. Davis, 35, and C. E. Wood, 26. Faulkner suffered a face fracture and cut eye and Davis was cut on the head. They were taken to Miami Valley Hospital. Wood, who suffered a back injury, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Patrolman F. D. Armstrong suffered a leg injury.

Mounties 78-60 Winner

Stanton Beaten In Tourney Play

STEUBENVILLE — A 30-point performance by 6-5 Mark Thompson plus a big edge in rebounds gave Mt. Pleasant a 78-60 victory over Stanton Local in the Sectional Class A finals here Friday night.

Stanton bowed out of tournament play along with Tiltonsville which was handed a 73-58 loss by Bridgeport in other Sectional final battle last night.

Thus Mt. Pleasant and Bridgeport now advance to the Class A District tourney next week at the Community Arena here.

Thompson dropped in nine field goals but fired a perfect 12 for 12 from the foul line for his 30 point total. The junior star was joined in the scoring parade by Winfield Robson who tallied 20 points on 10 field goals.

The big difference in the rebounding department where Mt. Pleasant showed a 49-21 edge. Shooting-wise both teams were equal hitting 46 per cent each. Stanton made 26 of 56 while Mt. Pleasant dropped in 29 of 63.

Randy Frampton paced Stanton in the scoring department with 19 points.

Stanton only trailed 37-30 at halftime but was outscored 22-11 in the third period allowing Mt. Pleasant to take an 18-point margin into the final eight minutes.

St. Francis is fourth in rebounding as a team and 10th in total offense. Marshall is 13th and Toledo 18th in offense, Miami is 14th in free throw shooting and sixth in field goal percentage and Ohio State is ninth and Toledo 17th in field goal percentage.

Rinka Fires In 42 Points For Kenyon

By The Associated Press

The going gets tougher tonight in the Ohio Conference basketball tournament, with divisional titles on the line.

Kenyon and Baldwin-Wallace will square off for the Northern Division title at Berea while Denison tackles Wittenberg at Granville for Southern Division honors.

Tonight's winners meet at Berea Tuesday for the conference championship.

In Friday night's action, Kenyon easily polished off Wooster 98-71 as little John Rinka pumped in 42 points for the Lords.

Baldwin-Wallace, led by 29 points from Terry Allerton, was down 33-32 at halftime but the defending champions gradually began to pull away midway in the second period.

At Granville, Denison also trailed at intermission, 32-25, but strong rebounding in the second period proved to be a deciding factor. Charlie Claggett paced the Big Red with 23 points.

Alcindor 2nd, Maravich Rates 3rd

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Elvin Hayes, once cut from his high school varsity team because he had a "coordination problem" is the college basketball player of the year for 1968.

Hayes, the 6-8 top scorer and rebounder for the No. 1 ranked University of Houston Cougars, won the player of the year award Friday. The two-time All-American senior polled 222½ votes to 41½ for Lew Alcindor, the 7-1½ UCLA star, in an Associated Press poll of 322 sports writers and broadcasters. One voter had the two tied.

Alcindor, who was player of the year last year as a sophomore, was 18 points ahead of Pete Maravach of Louisiana State, the nation's leading scorer, in the voting.

Hayes, nicknamed the "Big E", said being named player of the year "is a great honor."

Hayes, 22, a Rayville, La., native, is considered a top prospect for professional basketball, a desire he has had since childhood.

He says he wants to be recognized as a good basketball player and also as a good person.

"You can be a good ballplayer but if you don't treat people right you're nothing," he said.

He gained national prominence with his 39 points when the Cougars snapped UCLA's 47 game winning streak in January Astrodome before more than 50,000 spectators and another 12 million watching on television.

He scored 62 points Feb. 24 in leading Houston to a 158-81 victory over Valparaiso. It was the third highest game score for one team in major college records.

In leading the unbeaten Cougars through 26 games this season he has became the second highest career scorer in college basketball with more than 2,600 points. But he is never completely satisfied.

"I am going to push myself to the limit," he said. "I will never stop working to reach the top."

Melvin Rogers, basketball coach at Eula Britton High School at Rayville, a town of 6,000 in the cotton country of northeast Louisiana, was the one who cut Hayes from the varsity his second year.

"He was a gangling kid, all hands and feet," Rogers recalled. "He had a coordination problem so I suggested he work out with the junior varsity until he improved."

Rogers said Hayes worked hard and it paid off. Britton was runner-up in the state tournament Hays' junior year and won the championship his senior year.

Thirty-three colleges tried to recruit him.

Peggy's Due For Another Skate Title

GENEVA, Switzerland (AP) — Barring an attack of locusts or something equally unforeseen, Peggy Fleming will win her third straight world figure skating title today.

The 19-year-old Olympic champion from Colorado Springs, Colo., is so far ahead of the competition with only today's free-skating competition remaining that the title is virtually hers.

Tim Wood of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., did not fare so well in his bid for the men's title. Despite a valiant attempt in the free skating, Wood lost narrowly to Emmerich Danzer of Austria, the defending champion.

Danzer finished with 12 ordinals and 2,195.2 points to Woods' 15 ordinals and 2.189.9 points. Wood, trying to make up a deficit, attempted some daring leaps in his free skating, but one slip kept him from the necessary points.

"I think I was good enough to win despite the slip," Wood said afterwards. "I skated my full program and made no other mistakes."

Miss Fleming was near perfect in completing the compulsory figures Friday and each of the judges rated her first. She had 1,209.7 points to runner-up Gaby Seifert's 1134.8 points. The East German girl in turn led Beatrix Schuba of Austria with 1119.1 points.

New Mexico Gains Berth In NCAA

By The Associated Press

The New Mexico Lobos, picked to finish last, have climaxed one of their most successful seasons in college basketball by winning the Western Athletic Conference and an automatic berth in the NCAA national championship tourney.

The Lobos, seventh-ranked in The Associated Press poll, took the WAC title by erasing a 14-point deficit and beating Wyoming 75-62 on the road Friday night while visiting Arizona upset Utah 89-79.

UCLA, No. 2 in the AP poll, clinched a tie for the Pacific-8 Conference title by walloping Stanford 100-62 in Los Angeles as Southern California was upset at home by California 91-90 in overtime.

Columbia and Santa Clara also assured themselves of at least a tie for the title in the Ivy League and West Coast Athletic Conference, respectively. Columbia, nationally sixth-ranked, made it 16 in a row by whipping Penn 59-43 at Philadelphia. Santa Clara, playing at home, downed St. Mary's 72-56.

Iowa State stayed alive in the torrid Big Eight race and virtually eliminated Nebraska by beating the Cornhuskers 93-92 on the road in overtime. Steve Cooper's shot from the corner in the last five seconds won for Iowa State.

A 10-foot jumper by Russ Critchfield with 10 seconds left in the extra period gave California its upset over Southern Cal.

Towering 7-1½ Lew Alcindor threw in 31 points for UCLA as the Bruins crushed Stanford. Behind 13-12, the Bruins hit on 21 of their next 22 shots and easily won their 57th game in 58 starts.

A 25-footer by Ron Becker gave New Mexico the lead over Wyoming for the first time at 56-54 midway of the second half and the Lobos pulled away. Ron Nelson was high for New Mexico with 29 points.

Jim McMillian paced Columbia over Penn with 27 points.

Davidson and Wset Virginia won the semifinals in the Southern Conference championship tourney at Charlotte. Davidson downed Furman 79-63 and West Virginia routed Richmond 102-81.

LaSalle and Temple scored in the semifinals of the Middle Atlantic Conference playoffs at Philadelphia. LaSalle trounced American University 84-57 and Temple walloped St. Joseph 94-65.

Miami, Fla. upset Florida State, bound for the NCAA, 96-84, but New Mexico State, another NCAA at-large entry, trimmed Hardin-Simmons 73-60.

Weber State failed to sew up the Big Sky Conference, losing to Montana State 70-63.

In other games Arizona State downed Brigham Young 99-97, Texas A&M tripped Southern Methodist 85-80, Princeton clobbered Cornell 89-52, Yale beat Dartmouth 98-68, Oregon State edged Washington 74-72, Oregon defeated Washington State 81-73, Brown conquered Harvard 66-60 and Colorado State U. scored over the Air Force 83-62.

Griffith-Benvenuti Bout Rates 'Some Preliminary'

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — With most of the fans buzzing over the Joe Frazier-Buster Mathis heavyweight fight, the middleweight title scrap between champion Emile Griffith and Nino Benvenuti on the same card Monday night has almost been relegated to the preliminary class.

"Some preliminary," Howie Albert, co-manager of Griffith said today. "For the kind of money Emile is getting it could be the most expensive preliminary in history."

Grffith is getting $175,000 and Benvenuti $80,000 for their third middleweight title fight in Madison Square Garden. It will be followed by the battle of the unbeatens for New York, Massachusetts, Maine and Illinois recognition as world heavyweight champion. Both fights are scheduled for 15 rounds.

Frazier's purse is $175,000 and Mathis' $75,000 for a total of $505,000 for the four featured fighters in the first fight show in the new Madison Square Garden.

Garden officials wanted to open with a spectacular show and they've got one in the title doubleheader.

They charged from $10 to $100 in an attempt to cover the financial cut. The lower-priced seats went fast, but there has been resistance to the $75 and $100 tickets. Plenty of them are available, said Harry Markson, the Garden's director of boxing.

Markson said he expected a crowd of 17,500 to pay upwards of $500,000. Markson usually is conservative in his estimates. Previously, he had mentioned $600,000 to $700,000 and that would not be too far off.

The receipts to the promotion will be boosted considerably by the closed circuit telecast by TNT Communications, Inc., to theaters and arenas in more than 70 cities. There also will be telecasts to Canada, Mexico, Italy and Puerto Rico.

Frazier and Griffith, sharing the same quarters at Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., have been very impressive in their workouts while Mathis and Benvenuti have been only fair at best.

Workouts are not always the best way of evaluating a fight's outcome, but Frazier and Griffith have held firmly as the betting favorites. Frazier is the 2-1 choice while Griffith is 7-5 over Benvenuti.

Benvenuti, 29, has a 73-2 record and 30 knockouts. Griffith's record is 54-8 and 20 knockouts. Frazier, 24, has a 19-0 record, including 17 knockouts. Mathis, 23, has a 23-0 record, with 17 knockouts.

Gibson To Speak At Lisbon High All-Sports Fete

LISBON — Former Bowling Green University grid coach, Bob Gibson, will be guest speaker at the All-Sports banquet honoring Lisbon High School athletes on March 16 at Lincoln Elementary School.

Gibson who coached at Leetonia and East Liverpool before going to Bowling Green as an assistant and later head coach, stepped out of the coaching ranks after compiling a 19-9 record in three seasons at the Mid - American Conference school.

Tickets for the banquet are on sale at Chuck and Mike's Barber Shop and from any Lisbon Boosters Club member. Tickets are $2.50.

Another Dies Of Heart Attack

Player And Fan Stabbed After High School Game

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — A high school basketball player and a fan were stabbed Friday night, and another fan suffered a fatal heart attack as fighting broke out after a tense tournament game.

Four policemen also were injured in the melee on the floor of the University of Dayton Fieldhouse after the Dayton Dunbar-Beaver Creek game.

Police reported that the trouble started when angry fans, upset with officiating, poured onto the court.

Beaver Creek won 74-73 to advance to the sectional Class AA tournament.

Beaver Creek is a predominantly white school, Dunbar mostly Negro.

The stabbing victims were identified as Tim Swain, a Beaver Creek player, and Robert Brookauer, a fan of the team. Both were taken to Miami Valley Hospital.

James S. Rollins, grandfather of a Beaver Creek cheerleader, collapsed and died of a heart attack as the fans clashed on the floor.

The policemen injured included Sgt. Bill Faulkner, 32, and patrolmen T. L. Davis, 35, and C. E. Wood, 26. Faulkner suffered a face fracture and cut eye and Davis was cut on the head. They were taken to Miami Valley Hospital. Wood, who suffered a back injury, was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Patrolman F. D. Armstrong suffered a leg injury.

Several fans were injured slightly but none required medical attention.

Simmy Hill Drops To 7th In Scoring

Simmy Hill has dropped to seventh in scoring nationally among major college basketball players.

Hill is averaging 27.4 points a game for West Texas State. Fred Foster of Miami is 11th in scoring, George Zatezalo of Center Twp. and Clemson 19th, Walt Piatkowski of Bowling Green 25th, George Stone of Marshall 27th, Steve Mix of Toledo 31st, Don May of Dayton 37th, Bob Quick of Xavier 38th and Ron Williams of West Virginia 49th.

Dick Cunningham of Canton and Murray State is fifth in rebounding, with Larry Lewis of St. Francis eighth and May 12th. Steve Sorenson of Ohio State is fourth in field goal percentage and Stone 15th in free throw percentage.

St. Francis is fourth in rebounding as a team and 10th in total offense. Marshall is 13th and Toledo 18th in offense, Miami is 14th in free throw shooting and sixth in field goal percentage and Ohio State is ninth and Toledo 17th in field goal percentage.

Rinka Fires In 42 Points For Kenyon

By The Associated Press

The going gets tougher tonight in the Ohio Conference basketball tournament, with divisional titles on the line.

Kenyon and Baldwin-Wallace will square off for the Northern Division title at Berea while Denison tackles Wittenberg at Granville for Southern Division honors.

Tonight's winners meet at Berea Tuesday for the conference championship.

In Friday night's action, Kenyon easily polished off Wooster 98-71 as little John Rinka pumped in 42 points for the Lords.

Baldwin-Wallace, led by 29 points from Terry Allerton, was down 33-32 at halftime but the defending champions gradually began to pull away midway in the second period.

At Granville, Denison also trailed at intermission, 32-25, but strong rebounding in the second period proved to be a deciding factor. Charlie Claggett paced the Big Red with 23 points.

Columbiana Bowler Rolls 730 At Lisbon

LISBON — Two bowlers in the Lehman Ford Classic League will remember Feb. 29 —the day Hawkland Lanes on E. Chestnut St. changed its name to Holiday Lanes.

Tom Richardson of Columbiana, rolling with the Rose Lumber team, had a 730 series (227, 258, 245), while Jack Galchick of Salem, a member of Ward's Insurance team, hit 695 (225, 246, 242).

The secret ballot we now use originated in Australia.

Parties About $20,000 Apart

Frank Insulted By Offer Of $100,000 By Orioles

By The Associated Press

The temperature is in the 40s, Frank Robinson says his own contract demands are ridiculous and Ted Savage lost a fight with the pitching machine.

Other than that, spring training is just routine.

Just about all the baseball camps in Florida had to curtail outdoor workouts Friday because of the cold wave that Chicago White Sox Manager Eddie Stanky calls the worst in 25 years.

Strong winds made the weather seem even colder and Stanky moaned, "The players can't lose any weight in this weather."

A lot of the most important action so far this spring has been taking place indoors anyhow—on the long-distance telephone.

The Baltimore Orioles, for instance, are sending AT&T stock soaring with their phone calls to Los Angeles, home of Frank Robinson, who is insulted with the club's offer of only $100,000.

Robinson, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1966 when the Orioles won the pennant, was surprised at being offered the same salary he was paid last year when he hit .311 and had 30 homers and 94 runs batted in. He countered with a figure of $150,000.

"If they can be ridiculous," he said, "so can I."

At last report, the parties still were officially $20,000 apart, although Robinson intimates he'd sign for $115,000, $10,000 more than the Orioles are offering.

In Arizona, where the temperature is a little closer to what it should be, the strange happenings are taking place on the diamond.

Ted Savage of the Chicago Cubs didn't like the speed of the pitches the machine was serving up and he went out to the mound to adjust it. The thing fell on him and it took four stitches to close up the gash between his right thumb and index finger.

The Orioles have other important holdouts besides Robinson. Infielder Dave Johnson and outfielder Curt Blefary still are not satisfied with the contracts offered them.

But the Cincinnati Reds are leading the league in disgruntled players as no less than eight players are officially labeled as holdouts.

These include pitchers Jim Maloney, Mel Queen and Jay Ritchie along with outfielders Vada Pinson and Pete Rose and infielders Tommy Helms, Chico Ruiz and Hal McRae.

But some key players did come to terms Friday. Dal Maxvill, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, affixed his name to a contract calling for some $35,000 and Minnesota outfielder Tony Oliva signed for about $50,000.

Pipers Push Win Streak To 9 In Row

By The Associated Press

It was an on-again, off-again performance for Red Robbins, but it was enough as far as the New Orleans Buccaneers were concerned.

Robbins scored only five points in the second and fourth quarters Friday night, but he poured in 15 in the first and 11 in the third for a total of 31, sparking the Bucs to a 118-114 American Basketball Association victory over Anaheim.

New Orleans, the Western Division leader, built an 18-point lead midway in the third quarter and then, after Anaheim rallied, clinched it with eight straight foul shots in the last 3½ minutes. Jimmy Jones added 27 for New Orleans, and Warren Davis got 22 for Anaheim.

In the only other ABA game, Eastern Division-leading Pittsburgh outlasted New Jersey 135-125 for its ninth straight victory behind the scoring of Art Heyman, Charlie Williams and Connie Hawkins.

Heyman hit 33, Williams 31 and Hawkins 27 for the Pipers, who grabbed an early lead and kept it. Hank Whitney scored 26 for New Jersey.

Bullets Shooting At 4th Place NBA Playoff Spot

By The Associated Press

Gunning in 21 field goals out of 31 attempts in the third quarter, the Baltimore Bullets shot past the San Diego Rockets 156-114 Friday night and kept dead aim on the fourth and final playoff spot in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The victory kept the Bullets just a half game behind fourth-place Cincinnati, which drubbed San Francisco 122-101, and a half game ahead of Detroit, which outlasted St. Louis 131-121.

In the only other NBA game, Boston topped Chicago 94-87. The Los Angeles at Philadelphia game was postponed when wind blew away part of the roof of the Spectrum.

Pittsburgh downed New Jersey 135-125 and New Orleans edged Anaheim 118-114 in the American Basketball Association.

Eight players hit double figures, five with 20 points or better, for the Bullets, who scored 47 points in their big third period en route to a total-point record for the San Diego International Sports Arena.

Ray Scott led Baltimore with 25 points, 16 in the third quarter. Johnny Egan contributed 24, Gus Johnson 23, Earl Monroe 22 and LeRoy Ellis 20. Toby Kimball topped San Diego with 22.

Oscar Robertson's 31 points and 20 by Jerry Lucas along with 20 rebounds carried Cincinnati, which used a 19-4 spurt to pull away after San Francisco closed within 90-87. Rudy LaRusso had 20 for the Warriors.

Detroit clinched its victory when Dave DeBusschere scored 11 straight points in the fourth quarter. Joe Strawder, playing his first game for Detroit since being suspended Feb. 21 for missing practices and a team plane, celebrated his return by scoring 15 points and grabbing 12 rebounds.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 32 points, giving him 1,841 for the season and making him the second highest scorer for a single campaign in Piston history. He needs 161 to break George Yardley's record.

Zelmo Beaty led the Western Division leading St. Louis with 26 points.

Boston led Chicago 51-33 in the second period, but the Bulls rallied to tie it at 81-81 with 7½ minutes left. Then, with Tom Sanders and Don Nelson leading the way, the Celtics outscored Chicago 11-2 to wrap up the victory.

Bailey Howell paced Boston with 18 points. Bob Boozer and Barry Clemens got 17 each for Chicago.

Mount Lebanon Wins Battle Of Unbeaten Teams

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mount Lebanon has emerged from a battle of unbeatens and advanced to the WPIAL Class A quarterfinals by the narrowest of margins.

Steve Hein's winning basket was in the air as the final buzzer sounded Friday night, giving the Blue Devils a hectic 63-61 victory over Montour before 5,025 screaming fans at the Pitt Field House.

Chester, the defending Eastern Regional titlist, made it into the District 1-A tournmaent with a little less trouble. The Clippers held Ridley to six points in the second half and rolled to a 55-27 victory in a playoff at Philadelphia for the Suburban 2 League championship.

Mount Lebanon, which now has won 23 straight, spotted Montour, 21-1, a 10-point lead in the first four minutes and went more than five minutes before scoring its first field goal.

Charles Town Track To Try Again Tonight

CHARLES TOWN, W. VA. (AP) — Charles Town race track canceled its 10-race card again Friday night because of four inches of snow. The track also was closed Thursday.

Racing is expected to resume tonight.

Gives Bryan Quiz Honors

In the answers to the Sport Quiz appearing in Thursday's paper, there was an error.

The player holding the record for most NBA games played was not Harry Gallatin of the New York Knicks, as reported, but John (Red) Kerr of the Philadelphia 76ers, who broke Gallatins record of 746 by playing in 834 consecutive games. This answer gives the win in the quiz to John Bryan of 362 West Fifth St. instead of Earl Diddle of the Ceramic Hotel. The two youths had the same answers for all the other questions.

Ohio University Hires Grid Aide

HARRISBURG (AP) — John Harris High School has lost its young, and most successful ever, football coach to an out-of-state college.

The coach, 32 - year - old George Chaump, will take over the offensive backfield training at Ohio University. He will replace Larry Cuttuzzi, who has taken a head coaching job at Williams College.

In six years at Harris, Chaump's teams won 56 football games and lost only four. It presently boasts the state's longest winning streak, 35 straight victories.

Under his guidance, John Harris High won five Central Penn Conference titles and tied for a sixth with Steelton-Highspire.

Frank Insulted By Offer Of $100,000 By Orioles

By The Associated Press

The temperature is in the 40s, Frank Robinson says his own contract demands are ridiculous and Ted Savage lost a fight with the pitching machine.

Other than that, spring training is just routine.

Just about all the baseball camps in Florida had to curtail outdoor workouts Friday because of the cold wave that Chicago White Sox Manager Eddie Stanky calls the worst in 25 years.

Strong winds made the weather seem even colder and Stanky moaned, "The players can't lose any weight in this weather."

A lot of the most important action so far this spring has been taking place indoors anyhow—on the long-distance telephone.

The Baltimore Orioles, for instance, are sending AT&T stock soaring with their phone calls to Los Angeles, home of Frank Robinson, who is insulted with the club's offer of only $100,000.

Robinson, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1966 when the Orioles won the pennant, was surprised at being offered the same salary he was paid last year when he hit .311 and had 30 homers and 94 runs batted in. He countered with a figure of $150,000.

"If they can be ridiculous," he said, "so can I."

At last report, the parties still were officially $20,000 apart, although Robinson intimates he'd sign for $115,000, $10,000 more than the Orioles are offering.

In Arizona, where the temperature is a little closer to what it should be, the strange happenings are taking place on the diamond.

Ted Savage of the Chicago Cubs didn't like the speed of the pitches the machine was serving up and he went out to the mound to adjust it. The thing fell on him and it took four stitches to close up the gash between his right thumb and index finger.

The Orioles have other important holdouts besides Robinson. Infielder Dave Johnson and outfielder Curt Blefary still are not satisfied with the contracts offered them.

But the Cincinnati Reds are leading the league in disgruntled players as no less than eight players are officially labeled as holdouts.

These include pitchers Jim Maloney, Mel Queen and Jay Ritchie along with outfielders Vada Pinson and Pete Rose and infielders Tommy Helms, Chico Ruiz and Hal McRae.

But some key players did come to terms Friday. Dal Maxvill, St. Louis Cardinal shortstop, affixed his name to a contract calling for some $35,000 and Minnesota outfielder Tony Oliva signed for about $50,000.

Pipers Push Win Streak To 9 In Row

By The Associated Press

It was an on-again, off-again performance for Red Robbins, but it was enough as far as the New Orleans Buccaneers were concerned.

Robbins scored only five points in the second and fourth quarters Friday night, but he poured in 15 in the first and 11 in the third for a total of 31, sparking the Bucs to a 118-114 American Basketball Association victory over Anaheim.

New Orleans, the Western Division leader, built an 18-point lead midway in the third quarter and then, after Anaheim rallied, clinched it with eight straight foul shots in the last 3½ minutes. Jimmy Jones added 27 for New Orleans, and Warren Davis got 22 for Anaheim.

In the only other ABA game, Eastern Division-leading Pittsburgh outlasted New Jersey 135-125 for its ninth straight victory behind the scoring of Art Heyman, Charlie Williams and Connie Hawkins.

Heyman hit 33, Williams 31 and Hawkins 27 for the Pipers, who grabbed an early lead and kept it. Hank Whitney scored 26 for New Jersey.

Bullets Shooting At 4th Place NBA Playoff Spot

By The Associated Press

Gunning in 21 field goals out of 31 attempts in the third quarter, the Baltimore Bullets shot past the San Diego Rockets 156-114 Friday night and kept dead aim on the fourth and final playoff spot in the National Basketball Association's Eastern Division.

The victory kept the Bullets just a half game behind fourth-place Cincinnati, which drubbed San Francisco 122-101, and a half game ahead of Detroit, which outlasted St. Louis 131-121.

In the only other NBA game, Boston topped Chicago 94-87. The Los Angeles at Philadelphia game was postponed when wind blew away part of the roof of the Spectrum.

Pittsburgh downed New Jersey 135-125 and New Orleans edged Anaheim 118-114 in the American Basketball Association.

Eight players hit double figures, five with 20 points or better, for the Bullets, who scored 47 points in their big third period en route to a total-point record for the San Diego International Sports Arena.

Ray Scott led Baltimore with 25 points, 16 in the third quarter. Johnny Egan contributed 24, Gus Johnson 23, Earl Monroe 22 and LeRoy Ellis 20. Toby Kimball topped San Diego with 22.

Oscar Robertson's 31 points and 20 by Jerry Lucas along with 20 rebounds carried Cincinnati, which used a 19-4 spurt to pull away after San Francisco closed within 90-87. Rudy LaRusso had 20 for the Warriors.

Detroit clinched its victory when Dave DeBusschere scored 11 straight points in the fourth quarter. Joe Strawder, playing his first game for Detroit since being suspended Feb. 21 for missing practices and a team plane, celebrated his return by scoring 15 points and grabbing 12 rebounds.

Dave Bing led Detroit with 32 points, giving him 1,841 for the season and making him the second highest scorer for a single campaign in Piston history. He needs 161 to break George Yardley's record.

Zelmo Beaty led the Western Division leading St. Louis with 26 points.

Boston led Chicago 51-33 in the second period, but the Bulls rallied to tie it at 81-81 with 7½ minutes left. Then, with Tom Sanders and Don Nelson leading the way, the Celtics outscored Chicago 11-2 to wrap up the victory.

Bailey Howell paced Boston with 18 points. Bob Boozer and Barry Clemens got 17 each for Chicago.

Mount Lebanon Wins Battle Of Unbeaten Teams

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Mount Lebanon has emerged from a battle of unbeatens and advanced to the WPIAL Class A quarterfinals by the narrowest of margins.

Steve Hein's winning basket was in the air as the final buzzer sounded Friday night, giving the Blue Devils a hectic 63-61 victory over Montour before 5,025 screaming fans at the Pitt Field House.

Chester, the defending Eastern Regional titlist, made it into the District 1-A tournmaent with a little less trouble. The Clippers held Ridley to six points in the second half and rolled to a 55-27 victory in a playoff at Philadelphia for the Suburban 2 League championship.

Mount Lebanon, which now has won 23 straight, spotted Montour, 21-1, a 10 - point lead in the first four minutes and went more than five minutes before scoring its first field goal.

Charles Town Track To Try Again Tonight

CHARLES TOWN, W. VA. (AP) — Charles Town race track canceled its 10 - race card again Friday night because of four inches of snow. The track also was closed Thursday.

Racing is expected to resume tonight.

Gives Bryan Quiz Honors

In the answers to the Sport Quiz appearing in Thursday's paper, there was an error.

The player holding the record for most NBA games played was not Harry Gallatin of the New York Knicks, as reported, but John (Red) Kerr of the Philadelphia 76ers, who broke Gallatins record of 746 by playing in 834 consecutive games. This answer gives the win in the quiz to John Bryan of 342 West Fifth St. instead of Earl Diddle of the Ceramic Hotel. The two youths had the same answers for all the other questions.

Ohio University Hires Grid Aide

HARRISBURG (AP) — John Harris High School has lost its young, and most successful ever, football coach to an out-of-state college.

The coach, 32 - year - old George Chaump, will take over the offensive backfield training at Ohio University. He will replace Larry Cuttuzzi, who has taken a head coaching job at Williams College.

In six years at Harris, Chaump's teams won 58 football games and lost only four. It presently boasts the state's longest winning streak, 35 straight victories.

Under his guidance, John Harris High won five Central Penn Conference titles and tied for a sixth with Steelton-Highspire.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In Memoriam — KENNETH H. MILLER, who passed away one year ago today, March 2nd:

When the evening shades are falling
And we sit here all alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing
If you could only come home.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps one to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
Although your soul's at rest
And free from care and pain;
It would seem like heaven
If we had you home again.
God gives us strength to carry on
And courage to heal the blow.
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
Beside your grave we often stand;
Our hearts both crushed and sore.
But in the gloom sweet words come;
Not lost but gone before.
God knows the tears we've shed
Then He whispers, "He only sleeps.
Your loved one is not dead."
So we'll be brave my dear,
And pray to God each day
That when He calls us home to you
Your smile will guide our way.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children, Mother, Grandchildren and Brothers.

2 IN MEMORIAM

In Memoriam — KENNETH H. MILLER, who passed away one year ago today, March 2nd:

When the evening shades are falling
And we sit here all alone,
To our hearts there comes a longing
If you could only come home.
They say time heals all sorrow
And helps one to forget.
But time so far has only proved
How much we miss you yet.
Although your soul's at rest
And free from care and pain;
It would seem like heaven
If we had you home again.
God gives us strength to carry on
And courage to heal the blow.
But what it meant to lose you
No one will ever know.
Beside your grave we often stand;
Our hearts both crushed and sore.
But in the gloom sweet words come;
Not lost but gone before.
God knows the tears we've shed
Then He whispers, "He only sleeps.
Your loved one is not dead."
So we'll be brave my dear,
And pray to God each day
That when He calls us home to you
Your smile will guide our way.
Sadly missed by Wife, Children, Mother, Grandchildren and Brothers.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Saturday, March 2, the 62nd day of 1968. There are 304 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1836, Texas proclaimed independence from Mexico.

On this date:

In 1793, the Texas military and political leader, Sam Houston, was born.

In 1853, the Washington territory was organized in the West.

In 1861, Dakota was organized as a U.S. territory.

In 1899, Congress established Mt. Rainier National Park in Washington.

In 1945, U.S. troops reached the Rhine River at a point opposite Dusseldorf, Germany, during World War II.

In 1949, an American B50 superfortress landing at Fort Worth, Tex., after completing the first nonstop flight around the world.

Ten years ago — The United States and Britain started an attempt to mediate a dispute between France and Tunisia over the bombing of a Tunisian village.

Five years ago—Twenty-seven persons were killed in the crash of a Philippine airliner on Mindanao Island in the Philippines.

One year ago—Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., proposed suspending the bombing of North Vietnam to open the way to peace talks.

Junior Editors Quiz on PARAKEETS

QUESTION: How do parakeets get their colors?

ANSWER: The color of a bird's feathers is determined in one of two ways, or a combination of both. Tiny grains of actual pigment may produce hues of black, brown, gray, red and sometimes orange and yellow. Or, a delicate structure of cells, constructed with tiny grooves or screens, overlays the feathers. Our diagram at upper left shows how white light, passing through a prism, is dispersed into the colors of the rainbow. In the same way, the cells on certain feathers act like a prism, splitting the light up and bringing brilliant color to our eyes. This is why the hummingbird flashes with jewel-like colors; why the peacock shimmers in vivid blues, violets and greens and why many birds of the parrot family, like the parakeet, appear so colorful. The parakeets in our picture are telling us about their particular colors (parakeets can be trained to talk.) Why not color them with crayon or water color paint so you can appreciate their attractiveness still more?

Vitriolic Heads List Of Derby Candidates

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A near-record 191 3-year-olds are eligible for the 94th Kentucky Derby on May 4, with 1967 juvenile champion Vitriolic headlining the cast.

Owner Ogden Phipps hopes that Vitriolic, now ailing, could prove a third-time-charm in bringing his stable its first Derby victory.

Vitriolic was rated the best sophomore prospect in the Experimental Free Handicap, but so were his stablemates, Buckpasser and Successor, in 1966 and 1967.

Buckpasser never made it to the Derby starting gate, and Successor finished a dismal sixth last year. Phipps' best effort in the 1¼-mile Derby came in 1964 when Dapper Dan finished second.

Vitriolic was rested during the winter and made an impressive debut in an allowance race in Florida early this month.

But the son of Bold Ruler developed leg trouble that forced him out of today's Flamingo, and there isn't another clear cut favorite in sight for the $125,000-added Derby.

The 191 nominees become the largest number since the 196 of 1926 when a record 22 actually started in America's foremost horse race.

Every major stakes winner and 3-year-old colt that had a solid performance, a good hope or even a stout prayer at a stakes victory has his name in the box at Churchill Downs.

The who's who includes Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, hoping to become the eighth Derby winner under devil red and blue silks; Cain Hoy Stable's Captain's Gig and C. V. Whitney's Bugged.

There also is Verbatim, the Bahamas winner for Elmendorf Farm who was offered at a mere $20,000 as a yearling, with no one seriously interested.

Thomas Leclair nominated Subpet; Bwamazon Farm put T. V. Commercial on the line and Isidor Bieber dropped in the fast-improving Wise Exchange.

Other notables include Baffle, Clever Foot, Dancer's Image, and Don B., Pride of the West Coast. Such promising youngsters as Bold Native, Francie's Hat and Maggie's Pet are eligible.

Two fillies were nominated—Romstead and Ross' Annabelle and T. G. Brown's Flirtation. Only one filly ever won the Derby, Regret in 1915, and only 29 have started. A fair number usually are nominated.

Kelly Signs Four-Year Pact Worth $320,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — Leroy Kelly, who stepped in when Jim Brown decided to quit football and make movies, gambled on a good year last season and won a four-year contract reported to be worth $320,000 with the Cleveland Browns.

"I'm happy that everything is settled," Kelly said Friday after signing ceremonies with owner Art Modell were over. "I hadn't considered going to any other team."

The four-year pact, first in Browns' history, makes the flashy halfback one of the highest paid performers in the National Football League. He led the NFL in rushing with 1,205 yards in 1967.

Kelly, 25, was one of five Browns who held out on signing contracts last summer. He decided to play out his option, thereby taking a chance that an injury or poor performance might put him in a bad bargaining position.

He earned about $18,000 in 1967, a 10 per cent pay cut that is automatic for a player who plays out his option.

Kelly would have become a free agent May 1.

Besides the four-year contract, Modell has offered a financial incentive for 1968. He didn't elaborate but said, "He can make more money if the team is successful."

Michigan Bowler Hits ABC High Of 277

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Michigan City, Ind., man put together two five-strike strings to fire a 277 Friday for the best game in the 14-day-old American Bowling Congress Tourney.

Charles Ray, 36, opened his series with a 237, stumbled to a 135 but came back strong for the 277 and a 649 total that paced his Polka Dot quintet to a 2,819.

Later Friday night, 17-47 Bowl of Dwight, Ill., rolled a 2,922 on games of 980-1,011-931 to take over eighth place in the regular team division.

Houston U.'s McVea Signs With Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)— Speedster Warren McVea of the University of Houston has signed his 1968 contract with the Cincinnati Bengals, officials said Friday.

McVea, star running back and pass receiver for the Cougars, was the Bengals' fourth round college draft selection.

Used primarily as a running back last season, McVea picked up 747 yards in 105 carries for an average of 6.7 yards per try.

Vitriolic Heads List Of Derby Candidates

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A near-record 191 3-year-olds are eligible for the 94th Kentucky Derby on May 4, with 1967 juvenile champion Vitriolic headlining the cast.

Owner Ogden Phipps hopes that Vitriolic, now ailing, could prove a third-time-charm in bringing his stable its first Derby victory.

Vitriolic was rated the best sophomore prospect in the Experimental Free Handicap, but so were his stablemates, Buckpasser and Successor, in 1966 and 1967.

Buckpasser never made it to the Derby starting gate, and Successor finished a dismal sixth last year. Phipps' best effort in the 1¼-mile Derby came in 1964 when Dapper Dan finished second.

Vitriolic was rested during the winter and made an impressive debut in an allowance race in Florida early this month.

But the son of Bold Ruler developed leg trouble that forced him out of today's Flamingo, and there isn't another clear cut favorite in sight for the $125,000-added Derby.

The 191 nominees become the largest number since the 196 of 1928 when a record 22 actually started in America's foremost horse race.

Every major stakes winner and 3-year-old colt that had a solid performance, a good hope or even a stout prayer at a stakes victory has his name in the box at Churchill Downs.

The who's who includes Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, hoping to become the eighth Derby winner under devil red and blue silks; Cain Hoy Stable's Captain's Gig and C. V. Whitney's Bugged.

There also is Verbatim, the Bahamas winner for Elmendorf Farm who was offered at a mere $20,000 as a yearling, with no one seriously interested.

Thomas Leclair nominated Subpet; Bwamazon Farm put T. V. Commercial on the line and Isidor Bieber dropped in the fast-improving Wise Exchange.

Other notables include Baffle, Clever Foot, Dancer's Image, and Don B., Pride of the West Coast. Such promising youngsters as Bold Native, Francie's Hat and Maggie's Pet are eligible.

Two fillies were nominated—Romstead and Ross' Annabelle and T. G. Brown's Flirtation. Only one filly ever won the Derby, Regret in 1915, and only 29 have started. A fair number usually are nominated.

Kelly Signs Four-Year Pact Worth $320,000

CLEVELAND (AP) — Leroy Kelly, who stepped in when Jim Brown decided to quit football and make movies, gambled on a good year last season and won a four-year contract reported to be worth $320,000 with the Cleveland Browns.

"I'm happy that everything is settled," Kelly said Friday after signing ceremonies with owner Art Modell were over. "I hadn't considered going to any other team."

The four-year pact, first in Browns' history, makes the flashy halfback one of the highest paid performers in the National Football League. He led the NFL in rushing with 1,205 yards in 1967.

Kelly, 25, was one of five Browns who held out on signing contracts last summer. He decided to play out his option, thereby taking a chance that an injury or poor performance might put him in a bad bargaining position.

He earned about $18,000 in 1967, a 10 per cent pay cut that is automatic for a player who plays out his option.

Kelly would have become a free agent May 1.

Besides the four-year contract, Modell has offered a financial incentive for 1968. He didn't elaborate but said, "He can make more money if the team is successful."

Michigan Bowler Hits ABC High Of 277

CINCINNATI (AP)—A Michigan City, Ind., man put together two five-strike strings to fire a 277 Friday for the best game in the 14-day-old American Bowling Congress Tourney.

Charles Ray, 36, opened his series with a 237, stumbled to a 135 but came back strong for the 277 and a 649 total that paced his Polka Dot quintet to a 2,819.

Later Friday night, 17-47 Bowl of Dwight, Ill., rolled a 2,922 on games of 980-1,011-931 to take over eighth place in the regular team division.

Houston U.'s McVea Signs With Bengals

CINCINNATI (AP)— Speedster Warren McVea of the University of Houston has signed his 1968 contract with the Cincinnati Bengals, officials said Friday.

McVea, star running back and pass receiver for the Cougars, was the Bengals' fourth round college draft selection.

Used primarily as a running back last season, McVea picked up 747 yards in 105 carries for an average of 6.7 yards per try.
